900 STUDENTS TO FINISH AT L. S. U.

BATON ROUGE, La., May 24.—(AP)—More than 900 students from 60 of the state's 64 parishes, 23 other states and 12 foreign countries are candidates for degrees in graduation ceremonies scheduled at Louisiana State University here Sunday and Monday.

During the commencement exercises, acting president Fred C. Frey said, the university will inaugurate a new custom of honoring past L. S. U. classes. Honorees with the class of 1947 at various functions Sunday and Monday will be the class of 1917.

Several husband and wife teams are among the candidates for degrees, including Kia-Kang Wang and Joan Shu Hsu Wang, Chinese students from Shanghai. Wang is a candidate for a master of science degree in geology-petroleum engineering, while his wife is seeking an M. S. degree in zoology.

The Righe Rev. John E. Hines of Austin, Episcopal Bishop coadjutor of Texas, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon in the Greek Theater at L. S. U. Sunday night and the Very Rev. Charles E. M'Callister of Spokane, Wash., nationally prominent educator, will give the commencement address Monday night.

Frey, listing the foreign countries represented in the university's graduating class, declared that L. S. U.'s policy is to welcome and encourage cosmopolitan groups and students on the campus. Nations represented include Siam, Mexico, South Africa, Panama, Costa Rica, Cuba, Peru Ecuador, Brazil, China, Egypt and India.

PHONE EMPLOYES MAY JOIN C. I. O.

NEW YORK, May 24.—(AP)—The general executive board of the American Union of Telephone Workers, key affiliate of the National Federation of Telephone Workers, has approved unanimously a plan to affiliate the union with the Congress of Industrial Organizations, J. J. Moran, A. U. T. W. president, announced today.

Moran said the proposal to affiliate with the C. I. O. would be submitted next week to meetings of the union's 23,000 members, employes of the long lines division of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

He added that the ultimate goal of the move was a national industrial union for telephone workers.

SAM H. JONES IN GOVERNOR'S RACE

Says Conspiracy Formed For Corrupt Forces To Seize Control

BIGGEST POLITICAL SHOW IN LOUISIANA IS FORMING

LAKE CHARLES, La., May 24.—(AP)—Sam H. Jones, Lake Charles attorney who served as governor of Louisiana from 1940 until 1944, announced today that he will seek nomination to the governorship in the 1948 Democratic primary elections.

Jones led a reform ticket which swept the remnants of the Huey P. Long forces out of power in the 1940 primaries. A Louisiana governor cannot succeed himself directly, and he returned to private life when his term ended.

In announcing that he again will seek the executive office, Jones said his reasons are these:

"Louisiana must move forward, not backward.

"The forces of corruption must not be permitted to seize control of our government.

"Such a conspiracy has been formed. It is more sinister in its designs than anything Louisiana has heretofore experienced.

"If permitted to succeed, honesty in government, progress in the state, and the cause of home rule will all fall by the wayside.

"Knowing this threat exists, it is my plain duty to combat it. And I am convinced that when the decent people of all factions are aware of this peril, they will rebel against it.

"Louisiana must be built to greater heights.

"Our economy must be developed. In the midst of plentiful resources we are surrounded by poverty. This must be corrected. With right possibilities in the fields of farming, forestry, mining, manufacturing and foreign commerce, we must commence to use these so they will yield the greatest dividends to our own people.

"With the war over, and the way cleared, the big job of constructive developments must now be pushed to the limit. This is the crucial period. Mechanized farming alone will create an unemployment problem Nearly 40,000 war veterans are already out of jobs. Statesmanship of a high order is called for in the days ahead.

"I believe that I am qualified by training and experience to accept this challenge and carry on this fight. And it has been made abundantly clear that it is my bound duty to do so."

Jones said he will outline his platform later.

He is the sixth candidate to announce for the nomination. The others are Robert F. Kennon, Earl Long, Wade O. Martin, Jr., James H. Morrison and Norris Williamson.

CAST ROUNDS OUT FOR BIGGEST POLITICAL SHOW

BATON ROUGE, La., May 24.—(AP)—Now that former Gov. Sam H. Jones has stepped onto the scene, the cast is rounding out for the biggest political show played in any four years in Louisiana—the gubernatorial campaign.

And this is well in advance of the traditional curtain date—July 4. Jones' announcement today brought the number of principals to six, and provided a standard bearer for one more important faction of the Democratic party in Louisiana.

Jones led that faction to victory in 1940 over the remains of Sen. Huey P. Long's organization in one of Louisiana's most dramatic campaigns.

Jones' opponent then is in the race again. He is Earl K. Long, brother of the late senator and, like Jones, a former governor. Long served about a year, advancing from Lieutenant Governor to governor when Richard Leche resigned. Jones succeeded him.

The other candidates are:

Judge Robert Floyd Kennon of Minden, a member of the Circuit Court of Appeal but a newcomer to state-wide politics, and the only World War II veteran so far to announce.

WET WEATHER MAY CUT COTTON SHORT

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 24.—(AP)—This season's cotton crop may be severely curtailed if unseasonably wet weather continues into June, H. A. Carpenter, district extension agent at Indianola, Miss., predicted today.

About 75 per cent of the Mississippi delta needs several days of dry weather to effectively cultivate its crop, the agent commented after a week of heavy rains.

Planting—generally increased from eight to 10 per cent this year—is almost complete, he said, but nearly every row in the delta now needs working.

2 BOAT CREWS LOST AFTER 2 COLLISIONS

DEAL, England, May 24.—(AP)—Two American ships collided with two fishing vessels in separate accidents today in the fog-shrouded approaches to the Thames Estuary, and crews of both small fishing craft were feared lost.

Fire broke out on the 10,000-ton U. S. war shipping administration tanker Newhall Hills shortly after a collision touched off a series of explosions which blew off her bow and killed one man.

Crewmen, after a six-hour battle with the flames, were forced temporarily to abandon ship.

Fog hid the position of the war shipping administration's 7,176-ton Liberty ship John LaFarge, which sent out an SOS early this afternoon saying she had hit a fishing boat. "Several men in water after collision, vessel severed in half," the message said.

Neither fishing boat was identified, and the size of their crews was not known.

Lifeboats and tugs found the Newhall Hills drifting slowly toward the Goodwin sands, treacherous banks just off the southeastern coast. She had been rigged with a small stock anchor to replace the regular anchor lost when the bow was blown off.

The tanker's crew, which had taken to lifeboats, reboarded the vessel when it appeared the fire had subsided. The ship, still smouldering, was being towed stern-first by three tugs headed for Gravesend Beach, in the Thames.

The catwalk on the ship had burned, cutting it in two. Crewmen who went from stern to bow by boat found the bowman dead.

MRS. TRUMAN IS GROWING WEAKER

President Makes Plans To Stay With Her Indefinitely

AGED WOMAN TALKS SOME, SLEEPS BIG PART OF TIME

GRANDVIEW, Mo., May 24.—(AP)—President Truman reported tonight that his mother was getting weaker.

Returning to his hotel at Kansas City from another trying day at 94-year-old Mrs. Martha E. Truman's bedside, the chief executive said he had talked several times to his mother during the long and anxious hours, but that "she slept most of the time."

"She's just about the same," he said, and he added, "There's not much change."

Pausing, he told newsmen:

"She's a little weaker, if anything."

He went hurrying to the elevator leading to his apartment with the assertion, "That is just about all I can say."

The president planned to remain here indefinitely.

His personal physician was quoted for the first time as regarding her condition as not such that he feels he would be warranted in advising the president to return to Washington at this time.

Brig. Gen. Wallace H. Graham's views about 94-year-old Mrs. Martha E. Truman were communicated to reporters at Kansas City by Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross.

Earlier, the president, looking despondent, told reporters his mother "had a fairly good night" last night but that there was no improvement in her condition.

This followed his observation Friday night that she was growing "a little weaker."

The White House staff was alerted for any emergency.

Despite the sad state of his own feelings, the president stopped and chatted with eight little girls in the lobby of Kansas City's Muehlebach Hotel before leaving for Grandview

Brands Release Of 26 'Outrage'

Attorney General Wants Ruling On Right Of Every Man To 'Life, Liberty and Pursuit Of Happiness'

KANSAS CITY, May 24.—(AP)—Attorney General Tom Clark said today he will make an immediate investigation into the possibility of civil action in the "outrage in South Carolina where a jury turned loose 26 admitted lynchers."

Clark told interviewers he may seek a federal ruling that the right of every man to "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" is a federally-secured right against the action of a mob.

The attorney general, stopping over here enroute to Louisville, Ky., for an address tonight, was questioned about a speech in Topeka last night in which he said he might go into court as the aftermath of the acquittal of the 23 white defendants.

"I want to look through the facts in the case when I return to Washington," Clark informed reporters.

"I was shocked at the action of the jury in freeing these admitted participants in the lynching."

He said there was no evidence to indicate any state officers were involved in the case.

What he wants to do is determine if a strong enough case can be developed to get the federal courts to rule on whether mob action, depriving a man of his life, can be prosecuted under the federal civil rights statutes.

ASSERTS MEN WON'T FACE TRIAL AGAIN

GREENVILLE, S. C., May 24.—(AP)—Thomas Wofford, leading defense attorney for 28 white men who were acquitted this week of lynching a Negro, said Attorney General Tom Clark might invoke federal prosecution "but they'll never get our boys back into court."

Wofford made his comment in connection with a statement by Clark that he would ask immediate investigation into the possibility of civil action in the "outrage" in South Carolina where a jury acquitted self-acknowledged members of a lynch-mob.

"It was a fair trial," said Wofford. "It is our system of jurisprudence to submit a case to a jury. These men were tried for murder. The jury passed on the law and the evidence, and returned an acquittal. How are they going to get around that?

"There's no possible federal violation of civil rights."

Wofford blamed the "pressure coming from up north," and declared: "I wish everybody would forget about it and leave us alone."

He insisted federal prosecution was "not the answer to our problem," and added: "The solution is education for both races."

He pointed out any trial in federal court would be before a South Carolina jury.

BIG SANTA ANA TRIAL TO START

Two Socialite Sweethearts Face Charge Of Slaying Her Parents

SANTA ANA, Calif., May 24.—(AP)—The biggest trial in the history of this citrus city—the defense of two socialite sweethearts to the state's charges that they killed the girls' parents aboard their yacht-opens Monday.

On trial are Louise Overell, 18-year-old heiress to an estate estimated in excess of $600,000, and George Gollum, 21, her medical-student boy friend. They are accused, in grand jury indictments, of the murders of Financied Walter E. Overell, 65, and his wife, Beulah, 57, of fashionable Flintridge, near Pasadena.

Overell, finance company president and former Los Angeles furniture dealer, and his clubwoman wife were found aboard their dynamite-shattered, 47-foot cabin cruiser in Newport Harbor the night of March 15.

Gollum and Miss Overell, friends since childhood, returned to the landing a few minutes after the blast. They said they had gone ashore about 11 p. m. for sandwiches and milk and told police they had no knowledge of what might have occurred.

Investigators, examining the craft, found more than 30 sticks of dynamite, part of a string in which some had been exploded. Four days later Gollum and the girl were arrested, soon after they had visited a mortuary to select caskets for her parents.

They have steadfastly denied any connection with the blast.

The eve of the trial found Santa Ana packed with curious, who overflowed into auto courts in nearby communities. Hotels here have been sold out for days, and much of the conversation on street corners and in crowded restaurants is of the trial.

The public appetite was considerably whetted a few weeks ago by publication of a series of love letters, exchanged by the pair in jail with knowledge of authorities, who made photostatic copies before they were delivered.

Impassioned passages marked some notes. In others they discussed their chances of acquittal and future happiness. Meanwhile the girl's 18th birthday, and what was to have been their wedding day, passed on April 30.

Attorney General Fred Howser several weeks ago exercised his prerogative of ousting District Attorney James L. Davis of Orange County from direction of the prosecution. Davis' replacement had been requested by R. R. Hodgkinson, Newport Beach chief of police, who arrested the couple. Hodgkinson accused Davis of insufficiently vigorous prosecution.

How Overell, formerly of Evansville, Ind., who owned the Washington Finance Co., of Los Angeles at the time of his death, and formerly operated one of the biggest of the city's downtown furniture stores, and his wife met their deaths will be one

WEALTHY BUSINESS MAN SHOT TO DEATH

DAYTON, O., May 24.—(AP)—A wealthy business man was shot to death in gangland style today. The only clue police had tonight was a .45 caliber bullet, found embedded in the front porch of his home.

Friends and business associates were unable to advance a possible motive for the slaying of George K. Zavakos, 59, who with his family owned three bowling alleys, two restaurants, a candy store and extensive real estate.

Zavakos, prominent in Greek-American circles, died with a scream on his lips at 12:42 a. m., as a strange automobile skidded to a stop beside his own car.

One bullet penetrated his neck; another entered his chest near the heart. Zavakos staggered from his car and lay moaning in the street until F. L. Hussey, a neighbor, reached his side.

Then, "he apparently died as I stood beside him," said Hussey, who had first called police after hearing the screams and shots. Zavakos was able to speak nothing that would indicate the identity of his assassins.

How many men were in the strange automobile was not known. I. H. Goodman, who lived in the adjacent house, said he saw the mysterious car and "the flash of shots." However, he is near-sighted and was not wearing his spectacles.

Police discounted robbery as a motive after they found $1,100 in cash on Zavakos' body.

The Zavakos family operated the Varsity Bowl, Dayton Recreation and Royal bowling alleys, and the College Inn and Adams House, restaurants.

The College Inn is managed by a son, Harry, a former University of Dayton football star. Another son, Frank, was killed while flying in the Royal air force in World War II.

Pending against Zavakos was a $21,800 suit, filed by Charles Kanney, a former son-in-law. Kanny sought to recover the amount on the ground it was due him under a bonus agreement by which he managed one of the Zavakos bowling alleys.

OUACHITA LIBRARIAN POINTS TO NEED FOR HALF-MILL TAX

Ouachita parish, fourth wealthiest in the state, has supported its library less than any other parish in Louisiana, Francis Flanders, parish librarian, revealed yesterday.

"Not only have we maintained an appalling record of library neglect," Miss Flanders continued, but our standards are far below the minima prescribed by the American Library association."

In a statement attesting to the need for the half-mill special library tax, to be voted on by Ouachita taxpayers within the next few months, Miss Flanders pointed out that the total revenue of $9,448.90 in 1946 represented an expenditure of 16 cents per capita whereas the Louisiana standard is 50 cents and that of the American Library Association $1.00.

"Our present income is far too low for us to provide adequate service for the people of Monroe and West Monroe, let alone for those in the outlying communities," Miss Flanders said.

Stating that the parish book collection is very weak, especially on the fields of science, useful arts, and business, Miss Flanders said that while by the standards of the American Library Association the parish should have a collection of 118,336 books, actually it has only 27,087.

"According to the American Library Associations we should add 5,316 books annually, but in 1946 we increased our collection by only 1,663.2" Miss Flanders declared.

Urging the property owners of the parish to support the library tax when it comes up for vote, Miss Flanders said that the revenue derived would enable the library to:

1. Purchase a bookmobile to serve the smaller communities and rural areas;
2. Extend the hours of opening at the Monroe and West Monroe Libraries;
3. Increase the book collection;
4. Provide an adequate professional staff.

THE NATION TODAY
By James Marlow

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON, May 24.—(AP)—Unions some day may put up a strong fight for guaranteed wage plans.

They're not doing it now. But there's no great pressure now. Employment is high and seems likely to continue so for some time.

A guaranteed wage plan means this: An employer guarantees wages or employment to his workers for a certain number of months within a year, or for a full year.

So far, and after a great many years of experimenting, the idea of guaranteed wage plans has caught on less rapidly than wildfire.

Back in 1945 President Roosevelt started, and President Truman continued, a study of guaranteed wage plans.

The job was done by experts, including economists. And it had the help of the government's labor department.

The labor department polled 90,000 business firms to see whether they had such plans.

The general study, including the labor department's findings, was completed earlier this year.

This week, in its information bulletin, the department boils down its findings and tells this simple story:

Only 61,000 workers are covered by guaranteed wage plans. There are only 196 such plans.

Almost two-thirds—128 of the 196—guarantee employment for a full year at fulltime hours of pay.

The plans are in firms of all sizes, but mostly in small ones.

More than half the firms having guaranteed wage plans employ fewer than 50 people. About 10 per cent have 1,000 or more employes.

Says the bulletin:

"Almost 40 per cent of the plans are in manufacturing industries, most frequently in industries which have substantial season variations."

Which means: Firms which have rush seasons and slow ones.

Most of the 196 firms are in industrial areas like New York and Chicago. Very few are in the southeast, southwest or west.

The greatest number of plans are in firms making food—like meat-packing, brewing, grain, flour—and in textile mills—mostly dyeing and finishing—and in clothing companies.

Very few plans are found in heavy manufacturing industries.

Do guaranteed wage plans mean that the workers in such firms don't join unions.

No. In 130 of the plans unions represented the workers in bargaining relations with the boss.

NAT'L GUARD TO SUMMER CAMP

First Post-War Field Training Set For July 20, Aug. 17

The first postwar summer field training of the Louisiana National Guard will be held at Camp Beauregard, La., from July 20 to August 17, Brigadier General Raymond H. Fleming, adjutant general, announces.

Units of the 156 Infantry, stationed in Southern Louisiana, and the 141 Field Artillery Battalion, stationed in New Orleans, will attend camp from July 20 to August 3.

State headquarters and headquarters detachment and 39 division special troops and attached units will attend camp from July 27 to August 10.

Units of the 199 Infantry, stationed in North Louisiana, and the 935 Field Artillery Battalion, stationed in New Orleans, will attend camp from August 3 to August 17.

"I am asking the employers of Louisiana," stated General Fleming, "to encourage young men to attend our summer training camp by granting them time off to attend the camp in addition to their regular vacations without loss of pay to the men.

"The young men in the guard sacrifice their personal time once a week all during the year in order that they may be ready for any emergency, whether it is to fight a foreign enemy or to protect life, property, and maintain order during peace time emergencies. It would be unfair to ask them also to sacrifice their regular vacations in order to attend camp and perfect their training."

Botanists estimate that about one-fourth of all known species of plants in the world grow wild in Brazil.

Merrill Ward McClatchey, Detroit, has been appointed associate professor of speech, effective September 8, to replace Richard Flowers, resigned.

Sam P. Gullatt, a Louisiana Tech engineering graduate who is now doing graduate work at Georgia Tech, has been named assistant professor of electrical engineering, effective June 2.

In the department of physics, J. D. McDaniel, now associated with the University of Oklahoma, has been named an assistant professor, effective at the beginning of the fall semester.

C. T. Woodard, now supervisor of Jackson parish schools, has been appointed associate professor of education, effective on June 2. He will succeed D. P. Noah as principal of A. E. Phillips Memorial school at Tech, where he will teach some college courses. Mr. Noah is being granted a leave-of-absence for additional graduate study, after which he will devote all his time to teaching on the college level.

W. J. Bordelon has been appointed associate professor of education, also effective on June 2. A former parish school supervisor, Mr. Bordelon also has been a critique teacher at the Louisiana State University demonstration school. He will receive his doctor's degree at L. S. U. this semester.

For the summer term, Miss Myrtle Turner, of New Iberia, will teach library science. She is a former member of the Tech faculty.

Miss Katherine Butler, assistant director of the Tech Bureau of Placement and Services, has been appointed supervising teacher of the fifth grade in the A. E. Phillips Memorial school, effective on September 8.

Allen Renfro, 65, was found dead in his room at the Tourist Hotel yesterday morning, and Dr. J. T. French, parish coroner, who conducted an investigation, said Renfro had died of a heart ailment.

Mr. Renfro has no known relatives here, but it was reported he had a niece living in California. Efforts to contact the niece had been unsuccessful last night.

FRIENDSHIP MEET SLATED FRIDAY

York Rite Masonic Bodies To Hold Seventh Annual Session

The York Rite Masonic bodies will hold their Seventh Annual Friendship meeting at the Masonic Temple at 7:15 Friday evening, May 30. The meeting will begin with a supper in the social rooms followed by the program meeting in the lodge rooms. The principal speaker for the occasion will be Tom Q. Ellis, who is clerk of the supreme court of the state of Mississippi. Mr. Ellis is prominent not only in Mississippi Masonic circles but is General Grand Captain of the Host of the General Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons of the United States of America He has attained considerable renown as an interesting speaker and Friday night's Friendship meeting will be an outstanding event.

The custom of holding a York Rite Friendship meeting was instituted in Monroe in 1941 at the instruction of W. E. (Ned) Leigh who was then grand high priest of Royal Arch Masons of Louisiana. The Monroe meeting of 1941 was so successful that Mr. Leigh strongly urged each chapter in the state to sponsor a Friendship meeting each year. These meetings have aroused great interest in Masonic circles and during the six years since the first meeting was held they have come to be looked upon as one of the most interesting Masonic events of the year.

The sponsoring bodies are Monroe Chapter Royal Arch Masons, B. S. McRaney, high priest; Monroe Council Royal and Select Masons, H. S. (Hoke) Usrey, illustrious master; and Monroe Commandery Knights Templar, B. S. McRaney, commander. The grand chapter will be represented at the meeting by Curtis B. Hair, grand high priest, Henry O. Hartman, grand principal sojourner and W. E. Leigh, past grand high priest. The grand council will be represented by Henry O. Hartman, M. I. grand master. The grand commandery will be represented by Henry O. Hartman, grand commander; Barney Mulhern, inspector general and Dr. B. M. McKoin, past grand commander. A cordial invitation is extended to every master Mason in northeast Louisiana. This meeting will be of interest to every Mason.

AMVETS TO NAME ANNUAL OFFICERS

Election of officers for the ensuing year and selection of delegates to the state convention of AMVETS in Shreveport will highlight Monday night's meeting of Walter S. Savage, Jr., Post No. 5. American Veterans of World War II.

The meeting is scheduled for 8 o'clock at the Monroe Recreation Center on Catalpa street.

Joe Haynes is the present commander of the post. Tony Lewis, now third vice-commander, is being widely mentioned by local AMVETS as the probable successor of Haynes.

The member chosen commander Monday night will be the fourth one to serve the post since its organization. George Fink was the first. Haynes was elected commander to complete the unexpired term of John Dennis, who was forced to resign because of ill health.

Five delegates will be sent to the Shreveport convention by the post. They will be called on there to give a detailed report on the complete veterans memorial housing project in West Monroe.

Three of the five houses built on Pelican drive in West Monroe through the joint efforts of the post and the Louisiana Department of AMVETS have been sold to veterans at actual cost. The other two are available for sale and it is the hope of the post that it will be able to report complete occupancy of the homes by the time the convention goes into session.

The convention is scheduled for June 7 and 8. It is believed that 25 or more Monroe AMVETS will attend.

SHIPPERS BOARD MEETS IN OKLA.

Praises Efforts Of Monroe Traffic Manager Who Gets Promotions

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., May 24.—(Special)—At the annual meeting of the Southwest Shippers' Advisory board at Hotel Skirvin here, the members and officers of the board expressed sincere appreciation of H. F. Easterling, traffic manager of the Brown Paper Mill Company of West Monroe, La. He has been long an advocate of closer cooperation between transportation companies and the public.

It was pointed out at the meeting that in this way he has cooperated in his locality during the war in every worthwhile undertaking by the board. This cooperation, it was pointed out, comprises one of the major objective of the shippers' board at this time.

Mr. Easterling has been elected a member of the executive committee of this board. He has been appointed chairman of the paper and paper products commodity committee, as well as chairman of the important general loss and damage prevention committee which places him in direct contact of the activities of the board and railroads over the territory embracing North Louisiana, Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and a part of New Mexico.

These promotions are intended to be stepping stones to the general chairmanship of this board which represents 85 per cent of the shippers in the territory covered.

MONROE LOSSES FROM FIRE EBB

City Turns In Better Average In 1946 Than In Previous Five Years

NEW YORK, May 24.—(Special)—Despite the fact that fire losses rose nine per cent during the past year in the nearly 500 cities over 20,000 population surveyed by the National Fire Protection Association, Monroe turned in a better record for 1946 than its average for the previous five years.

The city ended the year with a total fire loss of $82,387 equivalent to $2.91 per capita. This compares favorably with its five year record of $3.10 per person.

The number of building fires in Monroe during 1946 totaled 161 or 5.7 per 1,000 residents.

The local fire department's efficiency is indicated by the fact that these fires were brought under control quickly and damage kept to a minimum. The average loss per fire was only $511, compared with $654 for the average city.

The association notes that the cities were harassed by 73,814 malicious false alarms in 1946, or 10.4 per cent of the total calls answered. Monroe had 5.3 per cent false alarms. The cost of fire prevention was increased and the fire departments' effectiveness reduced greatly as a result, the report points out.

A Threat To The Twin Cities

Of considerable importance to Monroe and West Monroe is the freight rate case to be argued before the Interstate Commerce Commission in Shreveport beginning tomorrow.

Not only does this particular case stand to affect the future industrial and economic growth of the Twin Cities, but even more, upon its outcome may depend the development of the entire region, and even the state as a whole.

In brief, the Shreveport Chamber of Commerce is requesting the ICC to include Shreveport within the limits of the Mississippi bridge arbitrary zone, in which a sliding scale of freight charges now operates to the advantage of the Twin Cities and other communities lying west of the river. The range of the arbitrary as established by the ICC in 1920 extends from the river to 170 miles beyond.

Shreveport, lying 172 miles from the bridge line, or 2.2 miles beyond the limit of the bridge arbitrary, contends that its industries and wholesalers are discriminated against, and that the existence of the bridge arbitrary, excluding as it does Shreveport, actually places the Red river city at a serious competitive disadvantage in relation to other trading areas in the state.

In short, therefore, Shreveport seeks to be included in the bridge arbitrary, or should the ICC find that request unjustifiable, it asks that the bridge arbitrary be ELIMINATED entirely.

It is in this last that the principal danger to Monroe and West Monroe lies, for, should the bridge arbitrary be abandoned the freight charges across the Mississippi to the Twin Cities would be more than DOUBLED, while Shreveport rates remained the same.

In other words, the Shreveport Chamber of Commerce is demanding that unless the advantage extended to us is extended to them, we should lose our advantage as well.

The consequences of removing the bridge arbitrary can be determined by reference to the following resume:

Vicksburg to Shreveport, 172.2 miles

(1)	$1.18	$1.00	$ .83	$ .65
(2)	$1.18	$1.00	$ .83	$ .65

Vicksburg to Monroe, 75.6 miles

(1)	$ .34	$ .29	$ .24	$ .19
(2)	$ .80	$ .63	$ .56	$ .44

(1) Present first, second, third and fourth class rate basis from Vicksburg on shipments originating east of the Mississippi river.

(2) Basic rate structure if bridge arbitrary is eliminated.

It will be noted that if the bridge arbitrary is eliminated, while the rates to Shreveport remain the same, the rates to Monroe will be increased by from 125 to 135 per cent.

Now Shreveport, as represented by its Chamber of Commerce, maintains that it has an unfair rate charge system; it asserts, even more, that the bridge arbitrary as established by the ICC creates an "unjustifiable, unreasonable and excessive" system of freight charges, and finally, it charges that the scale devised by the ICC is actually discriminatory to Shreveport.

That these allegations are without substance and foundation can be ascertained by a rapid recapitulation of the situation as it now exists.

The Mississippi bridge arbitrary was instituted by the ICC in order to give industries and jobbers west of the Mississippi an opportunity for equitable competition with those lying on the other side. Under the division of rate territories in the United States, those commodities moving across the river formerly incurred excessive charges as they continued their westward journey. The ICC felt that some adjustment was imperative to compensate for the disadvantage to those towns adjacent to the river which suffered when the high tariffs across the river were superimposed on those up to the river, and therefore originated the bridge arbitrary scale, in effect continuing the scale east of the river for a distance of 170 miles on the other side.

Several years before, Shreveport applied for and was granted inclusion in another category, known as the Texas common point, which extended to its merchants and manufacturers the intrastate and interstate transport benefits enjoyed by Texas firms, and all establishments receiving commodities originating between Shreveport and the West Coast.

Monroe and other Louisiana communities quite naturally were not included in the Texas common point grouping, and whether Shreveport was actually entitled to the exception made for it is still a question.

However, the inclusion of Shreveport in the Texas grouping is tantamount to the inclusion of Monroe and West Monroe in the Mississippi bridge arbitrary, and while Shreveport enjoys the lower rate scales on goods moving from the west, we enjoy similar advantages on goods moving from the east.

Shreveport now seeks to upset that balance by extending its trade area across the state up to the Mississippi, thereby receiving the benefits of the Texas grouping AND the bridge arbitrary. And failing in that, it wants the bridge arbitrary eliminated so that while they continue to participate in the advantages of the Texas grouping, and its present rate scale from the east remains unchanged, Monroe and West Monroe would find its charges increased by more than 130 per cent and all of its present trade protection lost.

Concisely then, should the petition of the Shreveport Chamber of Commerce be approved one way or the other, Shreveport would profit at our expense. Shreveport would enjoy the Texas grouping and the bridge arbitrary, or, should the arbitrary be discontinued, it would still have the advantage of the Texas grouping, while our corresponding safeguard, the arbitrary, would have been destroyed.

We are forced to believe that this all or nothing attitude as expressed by the Shreveport Chamber of Commerce is extremely unfair and in no way justifiable.

The effects on the Twin Cities, should the case be decided in favor of Shreveport, would be disastrous, and may jeopardize whatever opportunities we have for industrial and economic expansion.

If the arbitrary should be abandoned, then the freight charges, as shown in the chart above, would be more than doubled, with resultant necessary increases in wholesale and retail prices. In addition, our jobbers and home industries would be compelled to contract their trade area because of the consequent unit cost increase, or else compete with Shreveport at a definite price disadvantage.

Should Shreveport be included in the arbitrary, wholesale prices there could be decreased and its trade area enlarged, to the detriment of the economy of the Twin Cities.

Inasmuch as there is intense competition between Shreveport and the Twin Cities at the prevailing rate scale, any alteration in that scale could mean only an intensification of that competition with a considerable degree of success.

There is the further danger too that a favorable decision for Shreveport would establish a precedent for the extension of the arbitrary to other points west of Shreveport, and would open the way for a general breakdown in the entire present structure of rates.

In the light of all these facts we feel that Shreveport has far exceeded all bounds of propriety in asking for a double advantage at the expense of neighboring communities, and we feel that it is of the utmost importance to the welfare of Monroe and West Monroe that the Interstate Commerce Commission recognize the menace implicit in Shreveport's request.

The other day a Hollywood columnist raked Anne Baxter over the coals for "wearing clothes much too staid for her youthful years." Without attempting to pose as an authority on feminine fashions, I'd like to say one word in Miss Baxter's behalf. Maybe she does dress a bit too soberly to stand out in the Hollywood parade, but in so doing, she's displaying better taste and more common sense than the scores of over-age Hollywood glamour girls who insist on dressing like 'teensters.

Mrs. Jimmy Gleason, who died the other day, was never a top-flight screen actress, but she WAS one of the most remarkable great ladies in the history of show business, beloved by everyone who knew her. She was one of the first Hollywood actresses to take an active constructive hand in civic affairs. For years, she exerted a strong influence in almost every movement launched here in Filmville for the betterment of youth and the improvement of general sociological conditions. More thoroughly than any other actress I've ever known, she proved that the people of show business can play a valuable, inspirational role in public affairs. Her death is a great loss to Hollywood.

This week a story appeared in several Hollywood columns to the effect that Irene Dunne and William Powell, the co-stars of "Life With Father," have been battling for precedence in the billing. Because it appeared so generally, and so simultaneously, I conclude that it was "planted" by some interested publicist. To my way of thinking, it resulted in mighty poor publicity, and I'm reasonably sure that both Powell and Miss Dunne would agree. Both of them are mature stars with too much common sense to waste any time "battling" about whose name shall be used first in theatre ads.

Speaking of "billing," I note that Charlie Chaplin has revised the credits on his picture, "Monsieur Verdoux," to give Orson Welles full recognition for the original story idea. If the picture is as bad as most critics consider it (you can count me in), fans will probably leave the theatre wondering what Chaplin has against "Genuis" Welles.

News BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, May 23.—An editor writes: ". . . Stop quoting those people around Washington about what they think of the tax bill, the budget, the union reform bill and are doing on the sly. That is all very interesting, but we know those people. Their axes are all familiar. What I am paying for, is what you think. I don't care if you make a mistake once in a while. Unless I get some good judgment on Washington, what's wrong there, and what should be done about it, I will be in the same fix they are . . ."

Alright, here is what I think about it. Don't get angry because the views cannot possibly conform to yours, they are bound to be mistaken in some particular. But as you suggest, you can pick up the propaganda tripe in free handouts from the interested parties, and you are paying for an honest, objective opinion and are entitled to it.

I think the exigencies of politics are working to nullify any national Democratic leadership. That is about the whole story. You must judge by Mr. Truman's actions he thinks he can coast into re-election if he only lets the Republicans get themselves into hotter and hotter water—and heats the water up a little himself wherever he can without getting caught. On the other side, the Republicans plainly think they can establish national leadership with their economizing, tax reduction and union reform bills, which really are rather mild when measured against the whole.

But the Republicans have for five months encountered opposition politics, which whittled down their proposals and now is terminating in threats that all or so. will be lost by veto or nullification.

Thus while Mr. Truman's policy is to let the Republicans do it and his Democrats are actively preventing the Republicans from doing it if possible—you have had no affirmative leadership the last six months.

Now this situation should clear somewhat when the final conclusions on the three big points in the program become evident in the next few weeks. How much they clear depends to a considerable extent on how much is jointly assured by both parties. Congress is adjourning in July under law. Mr. Truman will remain as administrator of the Republican program, or whatever portion of it is left, after having been hammered down by political pressure. With both Mr. Truman and certain Republican leaders running for the presidency twelve critical months ahead of time, the prospects for joint leadership ahead may look rather dim. Indeed, we may be lucky if they do not succeed entirely in nullifying each other right up to election day.

That is what is wrong here.

What could be done about it? Many things. Actually a cessation of such premature politics in a joint endeavor to assert an affirmative leadership during this period of business readjustment would be about the best thing. Joint statements, speeches and above all, actions, are required. After this legislation is concluded and before Congress adjourns, this might be possible. A change in the gallup poll, showing Mr. Truman he could not coast in would probably be more beneficial than you may suspect.

Democracy works at its best in cooperative non-political ventures (see foreign policy, see war cooperation). Nullifying political tactics merely serve the vigorous anti-Democrats in this period of world crisis. For instance, the labor leader may somewhat justly think himself shrewd and successful for having killed certain reforms of union abuses, but if he makes the reform fail of effectiveness (as demanded in general by the electorate and two-thirds of Congress) he actually serves only his enemies. Such tactics actually instigate strong arm tactics to force unions to produce, to keep prices in, to provide just economies and fair taxes. Indeed they might cause popular opinion to swing to force to accomplish its defeated will. Such union leadership would, in such a case, find itself ultimately unwise and shortsighted, blinded by concentration of an immediate objective which might lose its whole game.

As for the Republicans, many of their leaders have been going back to ways which were old at the time of the first Roosevelt, not realizing the popular demand of the people in the last election for some new action to invigorate democracy, and inspire it to work more efficiently, because it certainly was not working under OPA. Also the Republicans do not seem to be familiar with the tactics of pressure groups here, because this is the first term for most of them. Anyway their spreaded position in Congress makes national leadership difficult, without administrative cooperation, and in the face of hot politics.

The exigencies of politics do not require that there be no leadership. I would say both parties had better stop running for election a year ahead of time as a first step.

Sunday School Lesson

Scripture: II Kings 19:5-7, 32-37; 20:12-17

By William E. Gilroy D. D.

Judah became the Southern Kingdom of Israel after the division into the southern and northern kingdoms through Jeroboam's successful revolt against Rehoboam, son and successor of Solomon.

The strength of David and the glory of Solomon soon waned when a people who ought to have been united with a common heritage in history and religion became strife-torn and divided. In this history there is a solemn warning for peoples of today, particularly, modern democracies where those of widely different origins must live together in peace or bring upon themselves sorrow and devastation.

The freedom that our democratic lands accord in speech and action is being used by some to promote discord and draw lines of hate and prejudice, sometimes in the sacred name of Christ and Christianity.

Along that way so surely lies ruin that all who love God must set themselves to do everything possible to promote the national strength that can come only to a people united in justice and righteousness.

The Northern Kingdom, as we have seen, was the first to fall. It was swept away eight centuries before Christ when the armies of Assyria came down upon it. Its people became known to history as the "Lost Ten Tribes." The Southern Kingdom survived for another 136 years, but it also went down before the armies of Babylon.

Our lesson tells of an interlude in this 136-year downfall when a good king, Hezekiah, and a noble prophet, Isaiah, were dominant in Judah. It is the story, too, of a great deliverance prophesied by Isaiah, when a plague of disease struck the great army with which Sennacherib, the Assyrian, came to conquer the people.

But Judah's course, as the title of this lesson indicates, was unsteady. Periods of better living, wise kingly guidance, and welfare were intermixed with periods of bad leadership and idolatry.

Hezekiah himself, though a good king, was by no means perfect. He did a foolish thing when he vainly displayed to envoys from the king of Babylon his wealth and the treasures of his palace. The prospect of loot, in ancient as in modern times, was a fruitful cause of war and invasion.

The United States rubber industry has almost doubled in size during the past five years and has converted largely to the production of synthetic rubber.

Pitching Horseshoes

By Billy Rose

Billy Rose

Big Mike, Guest No. 13478 at the State Prison farm, hated flowers. All flowers, from azaleas to zinnias.

Like twenty million somewhat more admirable citizens, he had hay fever. During what he called the "sneason," he had eyes like an albino's and a nose like a radish. If Mike hadn't been a trouble-maker, his request for transfer to a prison in one of the pollen-free states would probably have been approved. But no one around the prison liked Mike.

Least of all, a fellow felon named Willie Barrow. Willie hated Mike like Mike hated flowers. It had to do with a dame in East St. Louis they had both made a pitch for. Mike felt likewise about Willie. The only thing the two uglies had in common was their daydreams, which featured (a) a prison break, (b) the gal in East St. Louis.

One evening after supper, Mike sidled up to Willie in the prison yard and said, "Did you see what I saw?"

"Yeah," muttered Willie. "The guard didn't count us coming in. Getting sloppy."

"That means," said Mike, "they might not miss a guy until lock-in time."

"Check," said Willie. "If a fellow could hide in the field until after dark, he'd have a good chance of getting away."

"Hide where? The field's as flat as a pool table."

"He could hide in a hole if he could dig one when nobody was looking . . ." Willie caught himself. But it was too late. Mike had heard him.

The next few days, Mike kept an eye on Willie in the field. Willie kept two eyes on Mike. The hole-in-the ground idea shaped up better and better. If anything, the guard was getting even more careless. The gal in St. Louis seemed almost within touching distance.

In the lima bean patch one morning, Willie said to Mike, "This don't make sense. I watch you and you watch me. That way, neither of us gets out. Tell you what. You watch the guard and I'll dig the holes. One in the potato patch for me and one a couple of hundred feet away for you. If the guard comes my way, head him off. Talk to him. Tell him there's bugs on the beans, or something. Just before knock-off time we'll drop in the holes. Leave space to breathe and cover yourself with dirt and weeds. When it's dark, we can make a break for it."

Big Mike nodded: "You got a deal."

Just before quitting time, Willie eased over to Mike again. "All set," he whispered. "Your hole is past the cabbages. Right next to that clump of weeds. Get going."

At 6:00, the guard blew his whistle and the convicts single-filed back inside the walls. At 7:00, the big siren began to whine. Searchlights cut through the dust. An inspection of the laundry, kitchen and workshops turned up no trace of the missing men. It was pretty dark before the guards got around to looking at the flat fields of the farm.

Suddenly, there was a shot, a yell, and another shot.

They carried Big Mike's body into the infirmary. Bits of wood and dirt were clinging to his clothes and hair. His eyes were swollen, and his nose looked like someone had put a match to it.

"Willie Barrow got away," the guard reported.

"Where'd you flush Mike?" asked the warden.

"Truck garden," said the guard. "Heard a commotion over by the cabbages. Went over and investigated. Big Mike must have seen my flashlight. He started running. I hollered for him to stop. He didn't, and I let him have it."

"What kind of commotion was it?" asked the warden.

"Sneezing," said the guard. "The darndest sneezing I ever heard. The fool dug himself a hole right in the middle of the ragweed and goldenrod."

BIBLE THOUGHTS

Only they would that we should remember the poor.—Galatians 2:10.

A poor man served by thee, shall make thee rich;
A sick man helped by thee, shall make thee strong;
Thou shalt thyself be served, by every sense
Of service thou hast rendered.

ATOMIC ENERGY TO BE STUDIED

L. S. U. Plans Series Of Community Conferences; One In Monroe

Louisiana State University proposes to sponsor a series of community conferences on the social implications of various aspects of scientific progress. The conference will be conducted by the Association of Scientists for Atomic Education.

These scientists recognize "the profound social effects of scientific progress and the imminent danger of catastrophic misuse of recent scientific development because of a lack of appreciation of their full significance." Aware of the great danger to civilization inherent in the release of atomic energy, they have decided that public discussion will inform and awaken the people to the necessity of formulating policy on the new discoveries of science.

A team of three or four scientists from Oak Ridge, Tenn., will make available the results of their studies and lead the discussion.

A representative number of citizens of the Twin Cities were called together by Dr. W. R. Hammond, head department of social sciences, May 13 to discuss the above matter. It was unanimously decided that such information should be brought to the citizens of this community and a steering committee was appointed to shape up necessary plans for the meeting of June 20 to be held at the Northeast Junior College. Dr. Hammond was named chairman of the committee with the following members, Rev. L. T. Hastings, E. R. Dawson, Lewis Slater, Mrs. E. C. Gibson, Mrs. A. D. Tisdale.

A committee meeting was then scheduled for May 22 in the apartment of E. G Gibson's Frances hotel, when the following committees were named to head their committees and to promote the working comming under their committees: E. R. Dawson, chairman, publicity radio press; Dr. Hammond, chairman house and stage; Lewis Slater, chairman public address and recording system; Mrs. DeWitt Henry, chairman registration and study materials; Rev. L. T. Hastings, chairman accommodation for speakers; Mrs. E. C. Gibson, secretary steering committee.

JONESVILLE VOTES TO SPEND $100,000

JONESVILLE, La., May 24.—(Special)—In an exceedingly light vote, Jonesville citizens this week approved the issuance of $100,000 in bonds for the purpose of improving the combined waterworks and power plant through construction of additional facilities and the acquisition of a 600-kilowatt Diesel engine.

The vote was 59 in favor of the issuance and nine against. One ballot was spoiled. Inclement weather and a misunderstanding over whether or not all qualified voters could cast ballots were blamed for the light vote.

Election returns were canvassed by the town council which met in a regular session Tuesday night at the town office.

Officials at the polls were Mrs. Henry Uttinger, clerk; Mrs. Eunice Wilkinson, Mrs. A. D. Swayze and Mrs. R. P. Boyd, commissioners.

Advertisement for bids on the bonds is expected shortly.

Geologic timetables usually are based on millions of years.

INTEREST CENTERED ON COTTON MEETING

JACKSON, Miss., May 24.—(Special)—Mounting interest in the forthcoming annual meeting of the Louisiana-Mississippi Cotton Ginners' Association has extended beyond the borders of the sister states, according to A. Thompson, Bakersfield, Calif., president of the National Cotton Ginners' Association will be in attendance, so will representatives and officers from several other neighboring states' ginners groups. Reporters and photographers from cotton trades publications will also be on hand, Mr. Lewis said.

Four speakers will headline the program:

General W. E. Brougher, commanding officer of Fort McClelland, will be guest speaker at the morning session; while Hon. James D. Arrington, editor and nationally known humorist will take over in the afternoon.

Charles A. Bennett, engineer in charge of cotton ginning investigations at Stoneville, occupies the key spot of the program on technical aspects of the industry; and Harry Thompson will head a panel that discusses legal and administrative considerations of plant operations.

Educators Of Fifth District Discuss Mutual Problems

The visiting teachers of the Fifth congressional district met in the office of Miss Gladys Gregg, Tuesday.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mr. Walter Hohmann. Mr. Hohmann introduced guests who were Leland Davidson, Lloyd Starr, Miss Gertrude Harkrider, Miss Hazel Sanders and Mrs. Fannie Laughter.

Mr. Starr discussed the committee work of Miss Harkrider, and gave a very satisfactory report of findings. He stated that the parishes seem to be pleased with the work of the visiting teacher and that the visiting teacher must always use plenty of common sense in dealing with the work.

The Workshop 245, to be conducted at L. S. U. this summer was discussed and recommended for all visiting teachers. This workshop deals with the exceptional child, the mentally advanced, mentally retarded, cardiac cases, partially sighted and other vital subjects. It is hoped that all visiting teachers who are able to do so will take this course, which is from June 9 through June 27, it was stated.

A discussion followed concerning files in the local offices and how to expedite the work.

The meeting adjourned and the sixteen members met for luncheon together.

BUILDING IN LA. FALLS IN APRIL

NEW ORLEANS, May 24.—(Special)—A pronounced decline in investment commitments for construction in Louisiana and Mississippi was reported for April today by Albert G. Spivey, Jr., district manager of F. W. Dodge Corporation.

Contracts awarded for construction in the two states last month totaled $7,389,000, representing a decline of 45 per cent from the volume reported both for March and for April of last year.

The declines were general for all major classifications of building and construction. Residential building last month declined 29 per cent from March and 33 per cent from April a year ago. Non-residential building contract volume dropped 43 per cent from March and 33 per cent from April of last year.

Despite the sharp drop reported for last month, investment commitments for the first four months of the year were substantially in excess of the volume reported for the corresponding period of last year.

The total four-month figure was $61,565,000 against $38,001,000 shown for the first four months of 1946. The greatest gains have been in residential building and heavy engineering construction.

BANK AT CHOUDRANT IS ENTERED, DEPOT ROBBED

CHOUDRANT, May 24.—(Special)—An attempted burglary of the Bank of Choudrant, and a theft of $11 from the Illinois Central depot here was reported to have occurred sometime between closing time Friday evening and early Saturday morning, according to Sheriff Clyde Frazier of Lincoln parish, who is making the investigation.

It is not known why the would-be robbers failed to take money from the bank. That taken from the depot had been in the cash drawer and although the ticket drawer had been opened no tickets were reported missing.

Both the depot and bank were entered by windows which apparently had been pryed open with a crow bar, the sheriff's department reported.

WHAT IS THE OUTLOOK ON TURKEYS?

It is certain that there is a drastic cutback in numbers of turkeys to be grown in '47. This points to higher prices next fall. With feed plentiful and prices low this is an opportunity too good to miss! Raise 'em yourself—for the market—for profit!

NOW is the best time to start turkeys!

EXPECT ACCORD WITH ARGENTINA

May Be Marked By Retirement From Post Of Envoy Messersmith

WASHINGTON, May 24.—(AP)—A final accord to end the long dispute between the Unite dStates and Argentina and clear the way for an inter-American defense conference is now generally expected in Washington to be reached within the next few weeks.

It may be marked by the retirement from his post at Buenos Aires of Ambassador George S. Messersmith and the resignation of Spruille Braden as assistant secretary of state for Latin-American affairs. The split between them over the conduct of Argentine relations has been wide and bitter and both are believed ready to quit when improvement in the situation permits such action gracefully.

The apparently impending change in United States-Argentine affairs does not necessarily mean the beginning of an era of bosom friendship between Buenos Aires and Washington. American officials are still suspicious of what they regard as traditional Argentine efforts to win leadership in Latin America at the expense of north American good will.

The latest splash of interest in the Argentine situation was caused here today by the announcement at Buenos Aires yesterday that eight more Nazi agents had been deported and that Argentina "now considers she has satisfied all her hemisphere obligations." The announcement was made by Juan Bramuglia, President Juan D. Peron's foreign minister.

American officials said today they expect a full report from Messersmith over the week-end and that it would receive careful study at the State department next week. A decision evidently will have to be made as to whether the American government agrees with that of Argentina that all obligations have now been satisfied.

Argentina has already met American proposals on two major points. She has eliminated Nazi influences from Argentine schools in a manner deemed acceptable here. And she has liquidated Nazi control over powerful business organizations in Argentina.

On the third and last of the major points, she now has deported 60 suspected or proven German spies, reported that 16 more have fled to neighboring countries, classified 43 as unfound, and listed the rest as either under arrest or free with United Nations approval.

Once the United States agrees that this record fully meets Argentina's obligations under the act of Chapultepec, the 21 American nations can go ahead with the vital project of working out a plan for their common defense.

Peron has made a series of moves, of which the deportations are the latest, to show compliance with his commitments. Some diplomats now suggest that the situation has about reached the point where accord can be reached, a defense conference agreed upon, and both Messersmith and Braden permitted to step out under conditions of reasonable success for their respective methods.

this morning with his wife and daughter, Margaret.

He had to borrow a dollar from Mrs. Truman to buy ten "buddy poppies" with ten autographed bills for the benefit of disabled veterans.

The president told reporters he had been up since five a.m., working on a batch of official papers after working until nearly midnight.

"I did a day's work last night and this morning," he said.

For the fourth straight day, he passed up his usual before-breakfast walk.

Looking at the cold, drizzling rain that fell outside, he remarked that it wasn't "a very good day for a walk, anyway."

Complete facilities for instant communication with Washington via telephone and teletype are being used at the hotel and in Grandview cottage, to enable the chief executive to carry on the nation's business.

Secretaries Matthew J. Connelly and Ross are in charge of the hotel suite.

The papers on which the president worked last night and this morning went to Washington by courier plane later in the day.

Ross said the president picked some public health appointees and studied reports relating to the public health in the light of his recent call upon congress for a national public health program.

Ross did not indicate when the president will name an administrator for the Greek-Turkish aid program.

TEACHER ACQUITTED OF FATHERING CHILD

SOUTH BEND, Ind., May 24.—(AP)—Russell L. Jackson, 32-year-old Indianapolis school teacher, was acquitted today of charges of contributing to the delinquency of a North Liberty high school girl who had accused him of fathering her child.

Juvenile Court Judge J. Clifford Potts found Jackson, a former North Liberty coach, innocent of all four counts of the charge against him.

The girl, Miss Doris Rawles, had testified that she and Jackson had been intimate four times and that he was the father of her three-month-old son.

A North Liberty physician, Dr. John J. Hardy, testified that Jackson was physically incapable of sexual intercourse at the time the girl had said the acts of intimacy occurred. The doctor said Jackson had been left impotent as the result of injuries suffered in an automobile accident in February 1946 in which his first wife was killed.

BRANDS RELEASE

apparently facing death at the hands of armed, masked white men, made a desperate breakaway from his captors and sped into the pre-dawn darkness Friday, as a bullet whistled past his head.

Developments today gave rise to a theory that the frightened Negro, Godwin (Buddy) Bush, gambled with death, and won; that a bullet fired after him by one of his abductors missed its mark and that the band who forcibly took him from Northampton county jail here yesterday morning, fearful of creating too much of a stir, abandoned their plans and left the scene quickly.

Previously, it had been thought likely that the Negro, held on a charge of attempted rape of a young married white woman in Rich Square, a tiny community 12 miles away, had been lynched. A two-day search by some three-score federal, state and county officers has brought no trace of him —or the white men who abducted him.

Rosa Howard, a Negro woman who lives across the street from the Jackson jail, told Solicitor E. R. Tyler she saw a man break away from a crowd in front of the jail early Friday morning and run across a yard next to her house. She said, in an affadavit, that one man fired a single shot in the direction of the fleeing man and then entered one of several parked automobiles, which immediately drove away.

The woman was unable to say whether the man who ran past her house was a Negro. She also said she could not identify any of the persons gathered around the jail.

A reporter found a bullet embedded in a small wooden shack directly across from the jail and a footprint in the wet earth, apparently made by a running man. The bullet and a cast of the footprint were sent today to the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Washington. The F. B. I. had at least four agents here today.

The Howard woman's statement, along with the discovery of the bullet and footprints, and the absence of any trace of the Negro, caused officers to lean to the theory that Bush had escaped.

"I'm sure he's alive," Solicitor Tyler said.

There were no announced clues today as to the men who removed Bush from the Jackson jail at 2 a.m. yesterday. One of five state bureau of investigation agents, who declined use of his name, said: "We have been directed by the governor to find out everything in connection with this case." Every attempt will be made, he said, to identify the persons who abducted Bush.

Meanwhile, officers were continuing their search for Bush in the thick pine woods of Northampton, Hartford and Halifax counties, although they were fairly certain now that he had not been lynched.

Bush was charged with attempting to rape Mrs. Margaret Allen Bryant, a stenographer. High school boys heard her screams as a Negro chased her early Thursday night. Bush later was arrested and taken to the Jackson jail. A few hours later he was forcibly taken from the grey-haired 60-year-old Jackson jailer.

Because of previous race tension in the little community, resulting from two other attempted rape cases within the last month, Solicitor Tyler said he tried to have Bush removed from the Jackson jail for safekeeping but failed when his telephone calls to Jailer E. W. Edwards and Sheriff J. C. Stephenson were delayed. When he finally contacted Edwards, he said, he learned that the Negro had been seized only five minutes before.

Tyler said that only three weeks ago some 50 men surrounded the Jackson jail but two Negroes who were then under arrest there were removed to safety by officers.

Governor R. Gregg Cherry, who said "North Carolina will not tolerate lynchings and mob violence," directed the full force of all of the state's law enforcement agencies to investigate the case.

Highway patrol officers, who cruised through the streets in Rich Square all last night, planned to continue their patrol tonight. Tension was high in this agriculture county of 30,000 where there are two Negroes to every white person.

"Negroes seem to like to come to town on Saturday nights," one highway patrolman said, and "we're going to be on the alert for any possible trouble."

WEEDICIDE DAMAGE WILL BE DISCUSSED

There will be a meeting of farmers of the Bayou Bartholomew area Monday at 1 o'clock in the agricultural building in West Monroe. The meeting will be held to discuss the damages inflicted upon their crops by the new weedicide used by the state department of wildlife conservation to clean out vegetation in fish and game waters.

"The damages appear to have been more costly than was previously announced," said J. J. Joyce, parish agricultural counselor.

TWO ARRESTED IN HUSBAND'S DEATH

Woman And Man She Married Quickly Are Taken Into Custody

LINDEN, Ala., May 24.—(AP)—A 30-year-old Linden woman and the man she married four days after the death of her first husband last March were held without bond today under murder charges.

Circuit Solicitor T. H. Boggs said a state toxicologist's report described the case as "murder by arsenic."

The couple was listed as Mrs. Adelle Digman Anderson and Gilbert Anderson, 35. They were arrested yesterday in Birmingham and returned to Marengo county jail here last night.

Both denied the charges but Boggs said they made statements "which did not coincide." He did not elaborate.

The prosecutor said Mrs. Anderson's first husband, Lowery Digman, 46-year-old state highway department employe died March 22 after being ill several days.

He quoted Mrs. Anderson as saying in her statement that she and Anderson were married March 26 in Meridian, Miss. She has a 14-year-old son by her first marriage.

Boggs said Digman's family became suspicious after the quick remarriage of the widow and requested an investigation. The body was exhumed May 21 and an autopsy performed by State Toxicologist Nelson Grubbs.

The toxicologist's report showed "large traces of arsenic throughout the body" and gave a finding of "murder by arsenic," the solicitor said. He quoted the report as saying the arsenic apparently had been taken into the body in small doses over a period of months.

The solicitor said Mrs. Anderson was formerly employed in a Linden drug store whose stock included various forms of arsenic.

Digman was insured for $2,000 in a policy made out in favor of his wife, and had approximately $1 500 in a bank account, Boggs said.

After their marriage, the Andersons moved to Birmingham where the woman obtained employment in a drug store. Anderson listed his occupation as a farmer but had been unemployed since moving to Birmingham.

The solicitor said Digman received extensive medical treatment "for a cancerous condition" for weeks before his death and underwent an operation in a Selma, Ala., hospital which showed no such condition existed. He died two weeks after returning to his home from the hospital.

Warrants charging the two with murder were sworn out by Sheriff T. W. Shields. No date was set for the arraignment.

Mrs. Anderson's son, Cecil, was placed in custody of relatives.

GETS DEATH EDICT

VIENNA, May 24.—(AP)—A people's court today sentenced Johann Braun, former Nazi leader, to death on the gallows. Braun had set up his own court in the final days of the war, and had decreed death for his enemies, mostly opponents of the Nazi regime. JONES

Secretary of State Wade O. Martin Jr., a young member of a family long in politics, of a faction opposed to Jones in 1940. He has said he will run on his record as a public official and expects to draw support from all camps.

Rep. James H. Morrison of the sixth congressional district, who has run twice before for governor, and this time has the official endorsement of the Old Regular democratic political organization of New Orleans—the opposition to the present city administration.

Norris C. Williamson, cotton planter of Lake Providence, a state senator who long opposed Huey Long, and a leader in such farm organizations as the American Cotton Cooperative Association and the Louisiana Farm Bureau Federation.

Well-rounded as the cast appeared to be, there remained plenty of time for more candidates to qualify before the January primary, and plenty of rumors that more would.

The attitude of Gov Jimmie Davis, who was elected to succeed Jones with the latter's support remained unknown. The governor steadfastly has refused to say what part he will play in the coming contest. Many of his department heads and other highly-placed subordinates are "original Jones Men."

More of the plot, also remained to be written. Clear-cut issues to provide the candidates with the lines they will speak on scores of platforms during the long, hot road show tour, have yet to appear.

Jones' support of the former state natural gas policy may provide one, though the legislature officially discarded that policy this year. It called for discouraging natural gas exports to areas well supplied with other fuels.

Long has come out for encouragement of natural gas production and sale with a minimum of restrictions. Alone of the candidates he has already announced a full platform, including such planks as reorganization of the highway department and $50 old age pensions.

Kennon has appealed to citizens who "oppose the control of factional politicians" and has promised to provide "every day good government" and seek for Louisiana "its full share of America's postwar development and prosperity."

Martin so far has spoken mostly of his record, stressing the variety of duties imposed on the secretary of state through his supervision of insurance matters and his membership of many of the state's commissions.

Morrison has declared himself as "without reservation for white supremacy" and "white democratic primaries," and has said that to take care of Louisiana, he would have "no time to make plans for the future of the entire south."

This, apparently, was aimed at Jones, who, since leaving office, has busied himself in promoting the state's former natural gas policy and the southern freight rate equalization case and has written and spoken extensively in favor of industrial development for the whole south.

Williamson has stressed his record of supporting farm legislation while he was a member of the state senate, in fighting for ratification of the woman's suffrage amendment and in passing legislation to unmask the Ku Klux Klan in Louisiana.

In his announcement today, Jones said he was ready to fight "forces of corruption" which were conspiring to "seize control" of Louisiana.

LANIER CANDIDATE FOR LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR

NEW ORLEANS, May 24.—(AP)—Lee Lanier, owner and editor of the News-Digest at Amite, La., announced today his candidacy for the democratic nomination for lieutenant governor in the primary next January.

Lanier is a former candidate for governor.

In his statement Lanier described himself as a friend of the dairy farmers, the poor and the aged.

"I am especially interested in the dairy farmers," he said. "When the time is opportune, I expect to present their side and point out the abuses and injustices heaped upon them by their oppressors, the milk distributors and corrupt state government."

"I could not come out for the governorship—directly—because Jimmie Morrison has already announced from Tangipahoa parish," Lanier said further.

"Earl Long, my close personal friend, has also announced for the office, and I would not want to stand in the way of either, so I decided to run for second place in hopes of later being able to ascend to first place—if I can prove worthy of it."

of the questions before Superior Judge Kenneth Morrison and the jury.

Two autopsy surgeons agreed that they apparently were wounded by blows, possibly from a hammer, before the dynamite was set off. But the surgeons disagreed as to the times of death and state and defense joined several weeks later in exhuming their bodies for a further examination by a staff of southern California's leading physicians.

Judge Morrison has barred the public from the opening days of the trial, pointing out that the 90 seats in the courtroom will be insufficient even for the jury venire.

MARCH OF CRICKET HORDE IS HALTED

ORDNANCE, Ore., May 24.—(AP)—Millions of Mormon crickets headed for death today into a poison line expected to save rich wheat fields only three miles from the main vanguard.

The horde is "under control" along virtually all its 12-mile advancing front, Assistant County Agent Leroy Fuller said after a tour of the area.

Yesterday the crickets broke through a bait line and spilled over into sagebrush country adjacent to the farmlands of the Umatilla valley. Baiting crews fell back and spread a new line—aided by a plane pouring out the new chemical chlordane—and this line Fuller said he thought would hold.

The crickets, hopping, jumping, crawling through the poison area, moved on for as much as a quarter of a mile before falling. Thousands upon thousands began to dot the sand and lie under the scattered clumps of sagebrush as more thousands moved up from the rear. But the poison line, Fuller said, is deep enough to take them.

One flank of the attackers swept into a 1,000-acre wheat field 14 miles southeast of here last night and today poison was spread in their path. Pendleton Grain Growers Co-operative said 1,000 pounds of chlordane would be spread on the ranch Monday by pea dusters.

Fuller said baiting would be continued throughout the infested area for 30 days at least. The poison—aided by seagulls which returned to the attack again this morning in the nearby Boardman area—is expected eventually to annihilate the insects which were named for their 1848 attack on Mormon fields in Utah and are properly a wingless grasshopper rather than a cricket.

the half-mill tax. Miss Flanders said that cost tax payers only 50 cents for each $1,000 assessed property valuation. Property owners who have homestead exemption may vote the entire value of the property, but will pay no tax on the $2,000 covered by the exemption.

The total yield of the tax, Miss Flanders estimated, would be about $25,000 a year or almost three times the sum with which the library is forced to operate now.

(The half-mill tax was approved by the Ouachita parish police jury at its May 14 meeting, and will be submitted to the property owners of the parish sometime between now and August 1.)

RECREATION AREA DESIGNATION ASKED

NEW ORLEANS, May 24.—(AP)—Designation of the 4,500-acre Camp Livingston military reservation near Alexandria as a recreation area for organized Louisiana groups is being sought by the State Parks Commission, William W. Wells, director, announced today.

He said an application would be made to the War Assets Administration to set aside the surplus army camp area and about 200 buildings as a centralized state recreation center.

The area is served by well-developed existing facilities, Wells said. Facilities include an outdoor stage, a huge sports arena, two swimming pools with bath houses, a baseball diamond, tennis courts, football field and a motion picture theater. All roads are paved, and a number of chapels are available for the use of church groups.

A large officers club building would be utilized as headquarters and dining room for staff personnel of the State Parks commission. Originally conceived in 1946, the commission's plan calls for opening of the Camp Livingston recreation area in time for the 1948 camping season. A "modest fee would be charged campers, director Wells stated.

Opening of the camp depends upon its being made available by the WAA, and the availability of funds for operation, according to the parks commission official. He said the U. S. Forest Service, which controls the area, had expressed its willingness to negotiate a long-term lease with the state for use of the forest national grounds.

Camp Livingston is located in the Catahoula division of the Kisatchee national forest 11 miles from Alexandria.

State parks commission camps which will be opened June 15 include Longfellow-Evangeline state park at St. Martinville, and Chemin-a-haut park near Bastrop. Each has facilities for 40 overnight campers.

Two additional camps are under construction and will be open to the public for the 1948 season, Wells said. They are the Fontainbleu state park at Mandeville and Chicot state park at Ville Platte.

The number of people who eat in restaurants has more than doubled since 1940 and about 30 percent of all food expenditures are spent in eating places.

ACCORD BETWEEN CONGRESS AND PRESIDENT IS ENDING

WASHINGTON, May 24.—(Special)—The period of "cooperation" between President Harry S. Truman and the Republican controlled Congress is just about over.

During the next several weeks Congress will hand the president two bills which, whether planned or not, will put him on a political spot. They are the omnibus labor measure and the across-the-board income tax reduction bill.

Of all the bills which have been or will be considered at this session of Congress, none have or will draw the wide attention of the people of the country as these two. By the same token, they contain potential political dynamite.

First of the two bills which is likely to reach the president's desk is the labor measure. Before the president decides whether he will sign or veto the bill, there will be a good many huddles by White House advisors. Chances are those huddles will be about equally divided between those who are expert in labor legislation and Democratic party leaders.

President Truman will have three choices to make. He can sign the bill, permit it to become law without his signature, or veto it. Despite predictions from all sides, it is almost a certainty that he has not yet decided which of these three choices he will take.

Early in the legislative evolution of the labor bill, the choice appeared easy. The bill first passed by the House of Representatives differed so greatly from government labor policies and covered such a wide range that it appeared that the president would have no choice but to refuse to sign it.

At first, it seemed that Republican leaders in the Senate would go along with the House and help smooth the president's way, but a smart about-face by G. O. P. congressional leaders has put Truman in his predilemma.

Prospects are that the bill he will receive will only be a little harsher than he might have expected had his own party kept control of Congress. Result is that either way he goes, he stands the chance of alienating a great deal of the renewed support he has built up throughout the country.

If he signs the bill, Republican leaders will certainly claim credit for the legislation among the millions of voters who want it. At the same time, the president will be attacked by organized labor and others who bitterly opposed the measure. If he vetoes the bill, the situation will be exactly reversed.

There is one possibility that some political experts believe might be least harmful politically to the president. That would be the overriding of his veto of the bill by a coalition of Republican and Southern Democratic votes.

By such a result, the legislation would become law while the president's position with the large labor vote would be enhanced. Should the law prove workable and popular, the issue would be largely forgotten by those who resent his veto. Should, however, it prove to be badly written, the president would be in a position early next session to take the initiative asking for revisions of the unpopular features and keeping those which prove effective.

In some ways, the president's decision on the tax reduction bill may be even more difficult. While he intimated sometime ago that he would veto the bill adopted by the House of Representatives which made the measure retroactive to January 1, there are signs that he will definitely think the question over before disapproving the final measure, which is not expected to become effective until July 1.

Since the tax cut was originated by Republican leaders in Congress and consistently opposed by administration authorities during its legislative course, there is no question who will claim credit for it if it becomes law. For this reason, more than any other, Democratic leaders would like to see the bill killed. They would much prefer for Congress to adopt an administration sponsored tax reduction measure early next year.

They realize, however, that death administered to the bill by President Truman will directly touch the pocketbooks of every American taxpayer. Some of them seriously doubt that there are any fiscal arguments, no matter how logical, which could offset politically the damage done by killing a bill which would mean added dollars in every pay envelope in the nation.

If President Truman can get by these two Republican dug pitfalls without serious damage to his popularity, he will probably have escaped the most dangerous threats to him that a G. O. P. Congress can conceive between now and November, 1948.

HATFIELD GUILTY IN M'COY DEATH

Scant Attention Paid To Announcement By Old-Time Feuders

MATEWAN, W. Va., May 24.—(AP)—Here in the Hatfield-McCoy feud country along the West Virginia-Kentucky border there was barely a flicker of interest today in the word from the county seat up at Williamson that a Hatfield had been convicted of killing a McCoy.

Allen Hatfield, who admitted he shot Hubert (Bay) McCoy, remained free on $10,000 bond pending appeal of his conviction by a jury late last night on a voluntary manslaughter charge.

The story of the original feud which raged in the 80's is beclouded, but it's safe to say the hills hereabouts wouldn't have been safe for either the families or interlopers had the killing taken place 60 years ago.

It would have meant barricaded cabins, sudden, violent ambushes and bloodshed.

Today it meant only casual consideration in street-corner conversation. The fact that one man killed another was important. That the principals happened to bear the names "Hatfield" and "McCoy" was only incidental.

The 51-year-old Hatfield, former Matewan police chief, was convicted of killing McCoy, 28-year-old war veteran and miner, in an altercation stemming from a routine arrest last February.

Both men are direct descendants of the original feud families.

But time has wrought changes in the attitude of the families toward each other. They have intermarried. They are living as neighbors.

In Matewan High School, Principal Carl F. Montgomery said, there are 41 Hatfields and 28 McCoys now enrolled. There has never, said Montgomery, been any trouble between the younger members of the two families.

Most of the older ones, those who knew the story but wouldn't talk about it, have died off.

The feud started in August, 1882, along Blackberry Creek in Pike County, Kentucky, but within five miles of where Hubert McCoy was killed in Matewan.

A conflict still persists, and probably will never be settled, over the origin of the feud. One story is that it developed over the killing of a pig. Another version is that it resulted over the marriage of Jonse Hatfield, a son of old "Devil Anse," to Rosanna McCoy against her father's wishes.

But whatever the origin, the feud came to rank among the bloodiest between families in American history.

One Hatfield and two McCoys died in the original encounter, after which both families vowed unrelenting warfare.

Unlike the Allen Hatfield-Hubert McCoy incident, few of the skirmishes came into the courts. The families took the law into their own hands, asked no quarter and expected none.

The number killed in the vicious mountain ambushes remains uncertain. Records are sketchy and the story has lost much of its factual background in the re-telling down through the years.

Sheriff Dan Chambers declines to discuss the recent killing, but he doesn't expect any more as a result of this one.

Boyle's Notebook

By Hal Boyle

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., May 24.—(AP)—The most frightening thing about the prospect of a third world war is the admiration that is being generated over the second world war.

I don't know of a veteran who fought a hundred days in the line whose hair wouldn't turn gray at the thought of his son going through the same untidy business.

Yet to hear him talk now war was the big romantic adventure of his life, the flight from tedium he will never forget.

The Lord help me, I am one of these criminals, too. Every time I look memories with an ex-serviceman, I do the same sorry thing.

With his children and neighbor kids standing bug-eyed around us, we fight the war over again. We start off by saying how horrible it is, but somehow without meaning to—because we know it isn't really true—we end up by making death glamorous to the small fry.

I know this is true because my Uncle Tony did it to me. He is a man of great common sense who came back after the 1918 armistice with the conviction that war is the dirtiest enterprise that man, heir of earth, suborns his talents to. Uncle Tony has a heart as deep as the history of Ireland. I really don't think he would hurt any man to make a million dollars.

I know now that Uncle Tony never won the first world war. He was careful at the time to point out that he didn't. But for all his kindness and good will to everyone he came back our family hero, and the story of his war experiences overseas threw a peculiar luster over battle that we children never outgrew.

For Uncle Tony mentioned but did not emphasize the loneliness and fear and hardships of war. Or, if he did, he couldn't transmit these realties to us. He preferred to remember, and did make us feel, the tremendous vitality of war, the thrill of coming safely home alive from long danger, the odd accidents, adventures and friendships born of combat.

Now a new crop of veterans is doing exactly the same thing. No matter how much they may hate war to their bones, when they reminisce about it they make it interesting—and out of the routine.

You can't blame old soldiers for being liars either. The human tendency to make the best of things converts the dirty-legged, pock-marked Arab girl they bought eggs from in Tunisia into the most beautiful girl since the Arabian nights. It makes them feel better—and their wives jealous—to recall a 48-hour leave to Paris as the gayest daredevil time of their lives, when actually they spent it taking baths, drinking French watered beer, riding up the Eiffel tower and writing letters home from a Red Cross center.

Or if they did have a dinner rendezvous with a young mademoiselle, she probably showed up with seven hungry relatives, including Mama and Papa and a refugee cousin from Metz.

I am old enough to know better, but as I go around the country and meet old war comrades I lie with the best of them. I almost convince myself that war was wonderful and fun and I wasn't really scared all the way.

One veteran did tell me he got something out of war that I believe most soldiers did—or should have.

"I learned how to live with men and to get along with them," he said.

Well, that's an expensive way to learn something you're taught in Sunday School.

But we'll all go on—just like Uncle Tony—putting the most pleasant face possible on past catastrophe. Yet our sentimental lies do one thing.

They help make the younger generation realize that there is something greater than themselves—our country and prepare them for the time when the bugle blows. The bugles have been necessary for too many centuries, but until the world smartens up to a way to hang them up forever old soldiers and their clarion memories have a place and a purpose. I wish the time would come when they didn't.

Mackenzie's Column

By DeWitt Mackenzie
(Associated Press Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Even as President Truman signed the historic Greco-Turkish aid bill into law, there arrived in Ankara a United States military mission to help the Turks rehabilitate their poorly equipped army for defense against any possible Communist aggression.

Thus without delay was begun the implementation of America's new foreign policy of helping weak countries which are threatened by the Red tide. Meantime the vanguard of another American military party was en route across Europe to Athens, there to perform similar duties for the Greeks—but main interest centered in Turkey and the Dardanelles strait which for three thousand years has been one of the world's most important military positions.

The security of the Dardanelles is vital strategically to the success of the America npolicy. Greece is important also, but in the sense that it is a bastion which guards the flank of the strait. This narrow stretch of water between the Black sea and the Aegean is the barrier on the turnpike between Europe and Asia. Times without number it has run crimson with the blood of armies battling for its control.

Thirty centuries ago the King of Troy used to exact heavy toll from merchant ships passing between the Black sea and the Aegean which in turn gave access to the Mediterranean. There was the conquest of Troy by the Greeks who worked the wooden-horse trick. Many other attacks followed on the strait until finally came the disastrous allied attempt at the beginning of World War One, when the Turks were fighting on the side of Germany. We don't need to go over that story again, but a glimpse of the main points shows the extreme importance of this position.

Because the Turks controlled the Dardanelles (as they do now) they held the gateway to Russia. Thus the Western Allies were split. France and England couldn't get badly needed grain and similar supplies from the Czar's domains, and the latter wasn't able to secure war supplies from Britain and France. The Allies recognized that if they could break this barrier they could change the tide of war and shorten it immeasurably.

There followed the protracted Allied naval attack on the defenses of the strait, and the bloody campaign waged by a British expeditionary force on Gallipoli. It was a terrific conflict, but the Turks held their ground and the Allies finally were compelled to abandon the effort in that theatre.

Well now, the lesson we get from this is that the Dardanelles Strait is as nearly invulnerable when adequately defended as anything can be in this atomic age. Even during the last war when Hitler's war machine was smashing everything before it, the fuehrer didn't attempt to force the Dardanelles. That big ditch, with something like a million Turkish bayonets bristling behind it, was more than he cared to tackle until he had ironed out his difficulties with the Allies.

So with all these lessons to learn from, America is helping the Turks get on their feet militarily. They are among the world's best and toughest fighting men, but even the finest need is money and equipment, and that's what America is assisting them to secure.

It is estimated that Turkey can maintain perhaps 700,000 men under arms, and could produce more in an emergency. Well trained and thoroughly equipped, they could hold their Dardanelles defenses against a vast weight of attack.

Because of this it is America's hope that there won't be any attack, and that Washington's new foreign policy therefore will have justified itself in this instance by maintaining peace. That of course is the purpose of the policy—to eliminate Turkish weakness and thereby remove an invitation to aggression.

RECKLESS DRIVING COMPLAINTS MADE

There have been numerous complaints of speeding and reckless driving, especially by teen-agers, on the north side of Monroe, Chief J. D. Busby anounced late yesterday.

"It is not the desire of the police to interfere with the joy and spirit of the graduating classes of high schools in the city, but," continued Chief Busby, "the loss of life or limb will not only take the joy out of graduating, but may handicap a person for the rest of his life."

"The Monroe police department will insist upon more caution while driving, especially observing the speed limit of 25 miles per hour, and stopping at all right-of-way streets and red lights."

Chief Busby offers advice to all concerned: "Drive safely and be happy. Drive recklessly and be sorry."

M'KELLAR SUFFERS ATTACK

WASHINGTON, May 24.—(AP)—Attaches at the Naval Medical Center, Bethesda, Md., reported late today that the condition of Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, admitted there this morning after suffering a fainting spell, "is not serious." McKellar, 78, last January, was removed to the hospital from the Senate office building after what his office aides described as a "light attack, about like he has had before." Hospital officials said the senator was admitted for "examination and checkup."

Like other men of his time, George Washington had his own private recipe for the brewing of beer.

WACO COUPLE COLLECT CASH

Local Merchants Solicited For Money To Be Used In Texas

On Friday a good-looking young woman dressed in what most people of Monroe thought was Salvation Army uniform, passed through the business section with a tamborine asking the public to make contributions. On the other side of town her husband also solicited funds dressed in what appeared to be a Salvation Army uniform.

The police officers on the request of Adjt. Stratford, held the couple for investigation and the following information was found out. They called themselves the American Rescue Workers and stated that they had a lodging house for service men in Waco, Texas, in their possession was also a book with letters of reference from prominent citizens of Waco. On an exchange of telegrams by Adjt. Chas. Stratford, local commander, and Major William Stevenson of the Salvation Army in Waco, Texas, we find that the man and wife by the name of Satterfield do operate a small lodging for soldiers but according to Major Stevenson the place is unnecessary.

Adjutant Stratford estimates that this couple takes in around $500 per week in addition to the income brought in by other workers. In a lodge of the type they operate the expenses should not exceed $100 per week counting the cost of rent, food, laundry, etc., and at a conservative estimate this couple nets around $300 a week in addition to the salary they are allowed to draw.

Adjutant Stratford asks why people in Louisiana should continually support such groups who come here to take money out to be used in Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas and other states.

The adjutant states that the public should not be misled into thinking they are giving to the Salvation Army when they are not so doing. The Salvation Army workers have on bonnets and caps a red band which says plainly, "The Salvation Army."

Second openers of the Little Six League, amateur baseball organization are scheduled for this afternoon at West Monroe and Point. The Lapine club, still trying to get its diamond in shape and scheduled for a home opener today, will instead take their game to White's Ferry, it was announced by Manager Ralph "Red" Simms.

In the season openers last Sunday West Monroe beat Natchitoches Road, 8 to 3; Point nipped White's Ferry, 9 to 1; and Cross Roads beat Lapine, 3 to 0. Cross Roads has since changed its name to Nip and Tuck, a community in Union parish.

Manager Sims expects to have three American Legion Junior baseball stars in his Lapine lineup today. "Sonny" Webb, a catcher, and "Buster" King, third baseman, played with the Monroe-West Monroe Juniors last season and are already playing with Lapine. Louis Pipes, a pitcher for the Ruston Legion club, may hurl today's game for Sims.

BASTROP BLUE JAYS PLAY MONROE'S PIRATES TODAY

BASTROP, La., May 24.—(Special)—The Bastrop Blue Jays, amateur baseball club, play their second straight home game here Sunday afternoon when they meet the Monroe Pirates on the Bastrop High School diamond at 3 o'clock.

Last week the Jays were the victims of a neat two-hit 7 to 1 defeat administered by the Bonita Gators.

Manager Sid White today announced his probable starting hurler will be 18-year-old Harold Ray "Major" Carpenter who has a season record of two wins against no defeats. White also announced his ace lefthander, Malcolm Bostwick, now with the Texas A. and M. Aggies, would be home next week to join the Jays.

The probable Bastrop lineup for Sunday was announced as "Flap" Townsend, third base; Talmadge Foreman, second base; "Bones" Parker, left field; "Wig" Reily, center field; John Boykin, shortstop; B. Crowe, right field; B. Atkins, catcher; M. Posey, first base; and Carpenter, pitcher.

OUTBOARD RACERS ENTER EVENT HERE

Three outstanding outboard motorboat racers of this section of the country will be entered in the first annual Louisiana Water Carnival to be held here June 7-8. The racers, pictured above left to right, are: James Phillips, operating the T-31, and Harry Combs, with T-27, both from Texas, and Joe Riley, Shreveport. The boat races will take place Sunday, June 8, in the Ouachita river here.

SPORTS ROUND UP

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, May 24.—(AP)—Latest hot tip to come out of Mississippi is that the projected brother act of Shorty McWilliams and his kid quarterback brother, "Little Shorty" won't perform at Mississippi State next fall. . . . Story is that Little Shorty, who is quite a passer, will turn up at Louisiana State instead. . . . If that happens, citizens of Jackson, Miss., likely will call for help from that gal who throws chocolate pies—Jimmy Grippo, who did his best to build up Melio Bettina as a heavyweight title contender, apparently overlooked one thing. When Carpenter Gus Lesnevich finished building his house, Jimmy didn't take the hammer away from him. Gus must have used it last night. . . . Ted Williams, an incurable fight fan, turned up at the Garden reporting a perfect day. "I got three passes at the stadium this afternoon and another to get in here tonight," said Ted.

Quote, Unquote

Bob Hamilton, former P. G. A. golf champion: "When Nelson told me he was going to quit at Augusta, I told him: 'Byron, don't hang up that swing. Just let me use it for a couple of years and then I'll join you on the ranch."

Sportspourri

Tennis racquets may be spouting fireworks before long as a result of the U. S. L. T. A. selection of four "official" representatives at Wimbledon. Floridians are peeved because Margaret Osborne and Louise Brough were picked over Florida's Dorit Hart; Pat Canning Todd objected to the Wightman Cup setup last summer and there hasn't been any word from Frank Parker about the two men chosen. . . . Ken Doherty, Michigan track coach, figures that 19-year-old Herb Barten will run the half under 1:52 and the mile under 4:10 within the next year. He wants only someone to push him, says Ken. . . . The Kent (Conn.) school crew will be making its seventh trip to the English Henley regatta in 20 years next month. It has won the famed Thames Challenge Cup twice. . . . Believe it or not, Oklahoma's track athletes spent Friday morning before the Big Six meet in the Nebraska U. library, studying for final exams.

Strong Guy

They'll never complain about Sal Yvars, Jersey City catcher, having a weak arm. . . . In a throwing contest at Manchester, N. H., last summer, Sal stood about 376 feet from the plate, and heaved the ball into the dugout. . . . Then he asked for another chance because he had been "off balance" and on the next try he almost cleared the grandstand, the ball dropping into the last row of seats.

Weak End Items

The Philly Warriors of the Pro Basketball Association have signed Stanley Brown, a product of Philadelphia's Southern High School who won't be 18 until next month. Boss Eddie Gottlieb says he can't miss staying on the squad. . . . If they don't insist on college stars, the pro coaches might do worse than try Bobby Nelson of Tarrytown, N. Y. . . . Like Brown, he was a high school star who couldn't afford to go farther.

FERRIDAY LEGION CLUB WHIPS NATCHEZ, 11 TO 0

FERRIDAY, La., May 24.—(Special)—The Ferriday American Legion's junior baseball club turned back the junior legion team representing the Herbert J. Remondet Post of Natchez, Miss., by a score of 11 to 0 at Corbett Field in Ferriday.

The Ferriday juniors scored four times in the first frame and five runs were tallied in the second. A complete change in the Natchez team's battery at the end of the second stanza of the tilt came too late.

Buck Pintard, righthander who relieved Charles Booker for Natchez to start the third inning allowed two runs in his first two frames of mound duty. In the last three innings, however, he retired every batter who faced him. Pintard fanned seven and allowed two passes.

Big gun for Natchez was Booker, who collected two triples and a double. A sixth inning double play executed by Ferriday squelched Natchez' only opportunity to pull the game out of the fire.

Lewis and Massey of Ferriday each contributed a two base hit to lead the attack for the winners.

The Natchez team, according to Assistant Coach John Kenda, former Louisiana State University pitcher, has a game with the Vidalia High School for Wednesday at the Liberty Park in Natchez.

The score by innings:

Natchez	132	111	1—10
Ferriday	452	000	x—11

LOUISIANA GOLFER DEFEATS NELSON

Frank Champ Noses Out Great Pro Star To Win Texas P. G. A. Title

EL PASO, Tex., May 24.—(AP)—A tee shot that hit the pin on the 12th green and an eight-foot putt that dribbled in on the 15th gave Frank Champ, Lake Charles, La., the Texas P. G. A. Open championship here today. He carded a 68 in the final round over El Paso Country Club for a 71-hole total of 270—14 under par—and a new aggregate course record. It was his fourth sub par round of the meet.

In second place, just one stroke back at 271, was Byron Nelson, Roanoke, Texas, who scored a four-under par 71 today. Nelson started the final round two strokes behind Champ, and couldn't pick up the second point.

Fred Hawkins, Texas College of Mines Junior from El Paso, took third place in the final totals with 278 for low amateur. Hawkins fired a sizzling 66 in his final round.

Nelson and Champ made the nine-hole turn all even on their final round.

On the 12th Champ's tee shot was dead to the hole, hit the pin and bounced to one side about two feet. He sank the putt for Birdie two. Nelson's drive was on the green, but about 20 feet out and he required two putts.

On the 18th both reached the green with their second shots, but this time Nelson had the advantage, as his ball dropped within 15 feet of the cup while Champ barely reached the green and had a 50-footer.

Champ's initial stroke was short—by two and a half feet. And while the gallery waited with bated breath, Nelson calmly stroked his ball into the cup—one of the finest green shots of the day—for a birdie three.

But the slender, sun-burned pro from the Louisiana swamps didn't fold. His putt rolled to the lip of the cup and slid in with a thump.

Tied for fourth place in the final standings at 282 were a pair of Dallas amateurs, Dick Martin and Earl Stewart, and Chuck Klein, Amarillo professional. Ray Hill, Shreveport, took 283 for fifth place.

ALLEN CHAIRMAN OF TOURNAMENT

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 24.—(AP)—Ethan Allen, former Cincinnati Reds outfielder and head coach at Yale, was named today as chairman of the National Collegiate Athletic Association regional baseball tournament which will be held here June 20 and 21.

This eastern playoff will mark the first step in the determination of a national collegiate championship baseball team. At the same time at Denver a western section playoff will be held. The following week the national title will be determined at East Lansing, Mich.

Allen said that four veterans, one from each of the first four N. C. A. A. districts, would be selected to represent their sectors and that a double header would be played here on June 20, with the eastern championship to be determined the following day.

Currently teams in 30 states from Maine to Florida and New York to Iowa are in the semi-final stages of their 1947 seasons and within the next two weeks district selection committees will meet to make their choices.

The situation in the south and southwest is scrambled. Most likely candidates reported at this time are Alabama, Auburn, North Carolina State, Virginia, Clemson, Richmond, Duke and Louisiana State.

WALTER LANCE LEADING COTTON STATES HITTER

EL DORADO, Ark., May 24.—(AP)—Walter Lance, Greenville first baseman, tops the batters in the Cotton States League with a hefty .490 average compiled on 24 hits in 49 times at bat.

Lance enjoys a 67 point edge over the field on the basis of averages released by the Howe News Bureau.

Howard Roberts, El Dorado left fielder and Floyd Fogg, Clarksdale first baseman, are tied for the runner-up with .423. Bill Hazchak, Hot Springs first baseman, is next with .417.

Fogg is far ahead in specialized hitting. He tops the three slugging divisions—runs batted in with 21, home runs with six, and total bases with 69, and has scored the most runs, 21.

Another Clarksdale player, outfielder Paul Mauldin, has made the most hits, 31, and stolen the most bases.

Bill Walker, Clarksdale hurler, tops the pitchers with four wins and no defeats. Three other hurlers follow with three victories and no losses.

17TH TRANS-MISS. CROWN CAPTURED BY BLONDE TEXAN

Polly Riley, Fort Worth Steno, Easily Defeats Mrs. Margaret Gunther

By Kris Kreeger

NEW ORLEANS, May 24.—(AP)—Blonde, stocky Polly Riley won the 17th annual Women's Trans-Mississippi Golf Tournament here today with an unexpectedly easy 5 and 4 victory over her good friend Margaret Gunther of Memphis, Tenn., in the 36-hole finals. Steady rain fell during most of the match.

It was the most important golfing championship to date for the young stenographer from Fort Worth, Tex., who was runner-up in the 1946 Trans-Mississippi at Denver and was medalist in this tourney. Mrs. Babe Didrikson Zaharias, last year's winner, did not defend her title.

Miss Riley has previously won the Fort Worth City, West Texas, and Southwest Medal Play tournaments.

Polly took today's match by fairly consistent though not spectacular shooting, and profiting by her opponent's errors. Miss Gunther was often trapped or in the rough, and had poor luck on several recoveries. When Miss Riley did get into trouble she usually recovered well.

They rounded the first nine even, but Miss Gunther's errors lost her the next four holes and she was never in the running thereafter. Miss Riley was five up on the 18th and the 27th, and once had a seven-hole margin.

The first nine of the morning round, played before the rain started, saw the only real championship-type golf of the day. Water made rolls on the fairways impossible after that and wet grips caused some inaccurate shooting.

Miss Gunther was never ahead, but twice on the opening nine she evened things up after being one down. Miss Riley won six of the first eight holes of the second nine, before losing the

CANNY, BELKAS IN STATE TITLE SCRAP TUESDAY

George Curtis Returning For Semi-Final Bout With Buck Lipscomb

"Wild Bill" Canny, who missed his chance to life the world's light heavyweight mat crown from the brow of Jack Curtis last week, will risk his own Louisiana state light-heavy title here Tuesday night against the challenge of Chris Belkas, classy Greek grappler of Toledo, Ohio.

Belkas, who scored his second straight triumph in as many appearances at Gus Kallio's Arena last week, challenged Canny after stopping Allen "Sailor" Parker, ex-state champ who was on the trail of the crown again.

Notified of the challenge by Promoter Kallio, the villainous Canny offered no objections.

"I'll give any man a chance," declared Canny in accepting Belkas' bid for the title scramble. "I don't know how long I can hold the Louisiana belt, but I'll meet anyone you can match with me. I'm a real champion, and as long as I carry the belt I won't bar anybody."

Since lifting the state crown from George Craig, Canny has not been required to defend his throne, working instead toward a world's title. Two weeks ago he was disqualified in a non-title match with Curtis, and last week with the belt in sight, Canny couldn't quite make the grade.

Promoter Kallio will also introduce a newcomer on his Tuesday show, and at the same time bring back George Curtis, brother of Champion Jack, who hasn't been working in these parts in over two years.

Young Curtis, who has been wrestling in western states for the past couple of years, is back home at Vicksburg, Miss., a much more experienced wrestler than he was when he hit the Louisiana circuit with Henry Harrell during the early part of the recent war.

"As soon as I learned that George was back in this territory, I got in touch with him for a match," Kallio said last night. "Our local fans still remember him and quite often ask about the champ's younger brother and express desires to see him again."

Curtis will be billed against Buck Lipscomb, Indianapolis, Ind., in the semi-final attraction. It will be Lipscomb's first showing at Kallio's.

The Indiana grappler is a veteran in the business with many more years of experience than young Curtis, but if the rapidly developing Mississippian is as good now as reports from the west indicate, then he'll be a good match for Lipscomb.

SPORTSMEN'S LEAGUE SCHEDULES BARBECUE

A barbecue supper will be the big attraction to the next meeting of the Ouachita Parish Sportsmen's League, scheduled for next Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock at Bernstein Park.

Members are already making reservations to attend, and other persons desiring to be present are being encouraged to apply for membership and obtain their barbecue ticket well enough in advance of the meeting so that proper arrangements can be made by league officials to have an adequte supply of food on hand.

Secretary O. N. McNeil has mailed to each league member their barbecue tickets and also a membership application form with the request that each member sign a new one if possible.

The night's program has not been announced.

JONESVILLE INVADING BROOKHAVEN FOR TILT

JONESVILLE, La., May 24.—(Special)—The Jonesville Vets baseball team will invade Brookhaven, Miss., Sunday afternoon for a tilt with the strong semi-pro nine of that city.

A game slated with Delhi Thursday afternoon on the Jonesville diamond was cancelled after heavy downpours earlier in the week had flooded the field.

L. C. (Lefty) Scott will take the mound against Brookhaven. He will be making his first start this season with the Jonesville team although he hurled several exhibition games earlier with the Ferriday team of the North Louisiana League. Junior Brown will be his battery-mate.

Robert Swayze, field manager of the Vets, said a home game would be played next Thursday with either the Delhi team or the strong St. Francisville aggregation as opponents.

REACHES FOR MAT TITLE

Chris Belkas (above), Greek tussler of Toledo, Ohio, reaches for the Louisiana state light heavyweight championship here Tuesday night when he meets Champion "Wild Bill" Canny in the main event at Gus Kallio's Arena. Belkas, a comparative newcomer here but a winner of the two scraps in which he has already appeared at Kallio's, is considered a good prospect to dethrone the villainous Canny who recently took the state belt from George Craig, Tulsa, Okla.

Monroe-West Monroe Legion Club In Home Opener With Farmerville

Juniors Tangle On Neville Diamond Today; Jonesboro At Bastrop

The American Legion Junior baseball season has its official opener in Monroe today when the Monroe-West Monroe club makes its first showing before the home folks on the Neville High School diamond with the Farmerville Legion outfit furnishing the opposition in a game scheduled to start at 2:30 o'clock.

A victory for Monroe-West Monroe today would send the club sponsored by the L. B. Faulk and Burnett-Downs Legion posts of the Twin Cities into a tie for second place in the West League standings with Farmerville and Ruston. One other West League game is also on tap for today, Jonesboro at Bastrop.

Today's games will mark the second official appearances for all of the West's six clubs, and the East League of the Fifth District of Louisiana opens its schedule Tuesday with Winnsboro at Delhi and Ferriday at Rayville .

Right now Coach Woodrow W. Turner's Columbia Juniors are riding high at the head of the West League's standing after defeating Jonesboro last Sunday and then upsetting Ruston at Columbia Friday afternoon. Ruston had beaten Monroe-West Monroe Saturday a week ago.

Coach "Doc" Elliott's Farmers, ranking with Columbia as the West's only undefeated team so far ,will be out to protect their margin today, but Manager Pete Medak's Twin City aggregation ,after a hard week's work, is prepared to set Farmerville back on its neels if possible.

Medak last night announced John Fluitt would probably be his choice to pitch for Monroe-West Monroe today with Robert Kirby, star outfielder of last season, doing the catching. Coach Elliott is expected to open up with his mound ace, Henry Albritton, the Bernice boy who was one of the Fifth District's most outstanding pitchers last year.

The probable Twin City lineup was doubtful last night, but Medak said he would choose his lineup from Roy Scalia, Vernon Sanders, Busters Stevens, Billy Gimler, Robert Kirby, John Smith, Jarrell Matkins, Wayne Moore, Kendall Bailey, Milstead, George Parsons, Jimmy George, Fluitt, Joe Love, Carl Thompson, Robert Nelson, and Funderburk.

The likely Farmerville starting lineup, Elliott said, will be Pace, shortstop; Morris Albritton, center field; Bob Albritton, third base; Hodge, catcher; Billy Henderson or Ruggs, second base; Nolan, left field; Miller or Canterberry, right field; Bob Taylor, first base; and H. Albritton, pitcher. Others Elliott expects to play are L. Albritton, P. Taylor, and J. D. Taylor.

RED SOX WILL CONDUCT TRYOUTS AT LAFAYETTE

BOSTON, Mass., May 24.—(AP)—The Boston Red Sox, American League baseball champions, will hold a three day tryout camp at Lafayette, La., beginning June 10.

George Digby, Red Sox scout, announced that the tryouts be held at Southwestern Louisiana Institute.

Candidates up to 23 years of age will be accepted and free housing provided at the University stadium barracks, Digby said.

TIGERS, RED SOX FIGHT FOR LEAD

Winnsboro Threat To Olla Today; Other Games At Columbia, Clarks

Battles for positions in the league standings will feature every game in the North Louisiana League today with most attention being focused on the clash at Olla between F. E. Brooks' Tigers, currently tied for the league lead, and the strong Winnsboro Red Sox, defending champions.

Winnsboro, trailing the tied Olla and Jena clubs by one game, will get the chance to pull the Bengals down to a second place tie. The LaSalle Oilers of Jena rest secure today with no danger of losing their top rating, but the Oilers, with an open league date, will still be traveling in fast company when they meet the Baton Rouge Essos in an exhibition game at Jena.

Business Manager Brooks last night announced from Olla that the game with Winnsboro would be delayed about an hour and a half, as the game would be held up in the honor of one of Olla's oldest residents, a 94-year-old woman, whose funeral will be early this afternoon.

Down at Clarks, Manager E. M. Steely's Lumberjacks will be battling to hold on to their fourth place rating and a possible tie for third in the event Olla should beat Winnsboro. The Jacks will be entertaining Manager Leo Young's Ferriday Cats who broke into the win column again Thursday after losing four straight when they beat Oak Grove, 8 to 7. A Ferriday win would shoot the Cats into the first division.

The cellar duel will be on at Columbia where Manager Ray Spicer will send his Ramblers in quest of their second win, while the Oak Grove charges of Manager P. R. Thaxton will be shooting for their first triumph and a possible chance to climb out of the cellar.

Wednesday games have Olla at Clarks, Columbia at Jena, and Winnsboro at Ferriday, with the possibility that the Ferriday game may be billed for Thursday.

From Clarks, where the Lumberjacks will be making their second home appearance since the season opened, Manager Steely last night said he would use either Tom Perry or Scott on the mound against Ferriday. In his last two times out Perry shutout Winnsboro, 1 to 0, on one hit, and pitched a 3-hitter at Jena but lost, 1 to 0.

RED HOT GIANTS COOLED OFF BY BRAVES, 3 TO 2

Boston Climbs Within Half A Game Of National Leaders; Dodgers Lose

BOSTON, May 24.—(AP)—The Boston Braves took over sole possession of third place and climbed within a half game of the first place Giants tonight by whipping the New York club, 3-2, before 35,781 fans.

The victory was the seventh without defeat for Lefty Warren Spahn who limited the Giants to four hits.

The Giants took a quick two-run lead in the first inning when Johnny Mize clouted his 12th homer of the season into the right field bull pen, scoring Buddy Blattner, who had walked, ahead of him.

The home run on a one-two pitch, was Mize's second in two days against the Braves and his fifth of the year at Braves Field. On the Giants' last trip to Boston, big Jawn clouted three in successive times at bat against Johnny Sain.

NAME DOUGHERTY AS REPLACEMENT FOR MIKE CONNER

Tennessee Athletic Councilman To Serve S. E. C. For Next Six Months

By Edgar Thompson

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., May 24.—(AP)—Chairman N. W. Dougherty of the University of Tennessee athletic council today was named acting commissioner of the Southeastern Conference to replace Mike Conner, who has been given a six-month leave of absence because of illness.

Dougherty's appointment was made by a special three-member committee of which he was a member. He will serve until the next regular meeting of the conference in December.

"Dean (W. D.) Funkhouser and I had a difficult time persuading Dean Dougherty to accept the position," said Dean A. B. Moore of the University of Alabama, chairman of the committee.

"We insisted he take the job because we feel he is the best qualified man for it. He is familiar with the conference and its functions."

Dougherty has been chairman of Tennessee's athletic council for the last 30 years and as player and official has been connected with southern collegiate athletics for 40 years.

"I am reluctant to accept the position," Dougherty told reporters, "But I do feel that the job should go to someone familiar with the conference."

Dougherty was named a member of the national collegiate athletic association executive committee last January and is a past vice-president of the third zone of N. C. A. A. The third zone embraces most southern states. He also was president of the old southern conference in 1929.

Dougherty said he would transfer headquarters of the conference from Jackson, Miss., to Knoxville "as soon as I can get away long enough to go to Jackson and make arrangements."

Connor, former governor of Mississippi, established headquarters at Jackson a few years ago when he was appointed as the league's first commissioner.

Dougherty, who also is dean of the Tennessee Engineering College, said he probably would resign as chairman of the institution's athletic council.

"I'll have to talk to university officials about that," he declared, "but in all probability I'll relinquish the job."

PHILS TRIM BROOKS

BROOKLYN, May 24.—(AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies spotted the Brooklyn Dodgers three runs in the first inning and came back to defeat the Flatbush clan, 4-3, in 10 innings today.

Facing Hugh Casey in the 10th after he had tied the game in the eighth inning with his first home run of the season, Skeeter Newsome opened with a single off Pee Wee Reese's glove.

The Dodgers made only four hits.

Fred Schmidt, who took over in the ninth, was credited with his first victory since his acquisition from the St. Louis Cardinals last month. It was Casey's second loss.

ERRORS HELD REDS

CHICAGO, May 24.—(AP)—Three errors and two wild pitches by the Chicago Cubs helped the Cincinnati Reds to six runs, five of which were unearned, in a messy seventh inning here today and Cincinnati coasted in easily for a 6-0 triumph.

Johnny Vander Meer scattered five hits for his second victory with only one man reaching third base on him.

Henry Wyse was the victim of the sloppy Cub fielding, although he himself had a hand in it with one error.

STATE GOLFERS PREPARING FOR TITLE TOURNEY

28th Annual Louisiana Amateur Begins June 5 At Shreveport

SHREVEPORT, La., May 24.—(AP)—With a field of more than 200 expected, the annual Louisiana State Men's Amateur Golf Tournament swings into action here over the Querbes Park links Thursday, June 5, with the event slated to run through Sunday, June 8.

This year's meet will be the 28th annual, the tourney having been staged every year—war years included—since its inception in 1920 when J. K. Wadley of Shreveport won the title by defeating J. R. Meriwether, also of Shreveport.

Emile Zachariah of Baton Rouge is the 1946 champion, and is scheduled to defend his crown in this year's tourney. Zachariah won the title by defeating Junius Hebert of LaFayette at the Louisiana State university course last year.

Three former champions from Shreveport are slated for action in this year's affair, including Edwin McClure, six-time winner of the event; Ross McDade, who won the title in 1944 and Jimmy McGonagill, who was victorious in 1945.

The tournament will swing into action with the one-day qualifying test June 5, to determine the various flights. The 31 low qualifiers, along with the defending titleholder, will make up the championship flight, and the other contestants will be bracketed in the lower flights with enough flights assured to take care of all entries.

The first rounds in all flights will be played the morning of June 6 with second round matches scheduled for the afternoon. Third round matches are slated for the morning of June 7 and in the afternoon, the semifinals of the championship flight and first flight will be played, while the finals in all other flights will be run off.

STICKS SHADE PELS

BATON ROUGE, La., May 24.—(AP)—Little Jesse Jacinto sprinted in from third base tonight on an infield grounder to give the Baton Rouge Red Sticks a 9 to 8 victory over the New Iberia Pelicans in a ten inning Evangeline league tilt.

SOFTBALL LOOPS SET FOR OPENING

Three Boys' Leagues Formed, Deadline For New Clubs Is Wednesday

Three more softball leagues are poised for the opening of their summer campaigns here and will become active as soon as the schools of the city close for the summer vacation period. Director Jack Hesketh of the Monroe Recreation department also announced last night that another league of civic clubs was also in the making.

The City League for men is well into its schedule, and the Girls' League played its openers Friday night.

Set for openings in June are the Senior League for boys up to 18 years old, the Junior League for boys up to 15 years old, and the Midget League for boys up to 13 years old.

Already listed for the three boys' leagues are:

Senior League—Lee's Jewelry and the First Methodists of West Monroe, Red Shield Club, Louisiana Training Institute, Independents, Knights of Columbus, and First Baptist of Monroe.

Junior League—College Place Baptist Church, Louisiana Training Institute, St. Matthew's, and Red Shield Club.

Midget League—Graves and Cummings, Spatafora's Pharmacy, Memorial Methodist, Louisiana Training Institute, St. Matthew's, Unique Cleaners, and Johnson Brothers Barber Shop.

Wednesday night is the deadline for accepting new teams in the boys' leagues, and clubs not already listed as members but desiring to play should contact Director Hesketh before the entry time expires.

The Civic Club League is apparently getting off to a good start, Hesketh said, with the Kiwanis, Exchange, and Optimist Clubs already preparing to enter teams. It is also hoped that the Lions Club of Monroe and West Monroe, along with the Y's Men's Club, will also field teams. Players in the civic circuit will be limited to club members.

BOSOX FALL AGAIN

NEW YORK, May 24.—(AP)—Duplicating Allie Reynolds' Friday feat of limiting the Boston Red Sox to two hits, Veteran Spud Chandler spun the third successive New York Yankee shut out today and the second straight over the American league champions, 5-0, at Yankee Stadium.

Chandler was nicked for singles only by Big Rudy York in the second inning and Losing Pitcher Dave (Boo) Ferriss in the third.

The Yankees supported Chandler with a nine hit attack, four of them coming in the big seventh inning when they scored three times to insure the victory. The outburst was featured by a two-run single by Joe DiMaggio.

POLITICIANS HERE, PERMANENT

GLENPOOL, Okla.—(AP)—This one-time oil boom town held its last municipal election 14 years ago and the results—notably the absence of any local taxes—are so satisfactory that no one seems to care when there will be another.

Perhaps one reason that none of the town's 284 citizens wants to contest for a place on the three-man board of trustees is the modest municipal income. A state millage allocation gives Glenpool an annual income of $46.25 most of which is promptly spent on its streets.

17TH TRANS-MISS.

18th by chipping over the green and missing a short putt.

Polly ran her margin to seven holes by taking the first two of the afternoon round, and after dropping the next hole went seven-up again on the 23rd. She didn't win another, however, until she sank a 14-foot putt to win the match on the 32nd green.

Miss Gunther, usually a near-perfect putter, had difficulty on the greens today, and missed at least three short ones that would have changed the score. With that advantage gone, she was helpless before the Texan's slight but definite superiority in both distance and accuracy on the fairways, and in recovery from trouble.

In previous rounds of the tournament Miss Riley defeated in succession Mrs. Ben Bart of Houston, 7 and 5; Mrs. Thomas Findlay of New Orleans, 5 and 4; Texas Champion Kay Pearson of Houston, 3 and 2; and Mrs. Sam Israel, Jr., of New Orleans, Louisiana champion, 4 and 3.

New York

NEW YORK, May 24.—(AP)—With the exception of nearby positions, cotton futures were steady to firm today with trading moderately active.

Pronounced strength was displayed by new crop contracts, reflecting reports of unwanted rains in some sections of the belt. The nearby July position was inclined to lag.

Houses with spot connections sold July and traders stated this represented liquidation of long holdings.

Futures closed 50 cents a bale lower to 75 cents higher than the previous close.

NEW MANAGER FOR RADIO HERE

Robert W. Dumm Is Taking Charge Of KNOE Station

Robert W. Dumm has just been appointed as general manager of KNOE, NBC affiliate in Monroe. Mr. Dumm joins the KNOE organization from California's capitol, Sacramento, where he was director of broadcasting for the Mutual Broadcasting station.

A veteran of fifteen years in the field of broadcasting, Dumm started as an announcer, appearing on many coast to coast programs of the Columbia Broadcasting system. Later he was associate producer on such programs as "Burns & Allen," "Eddie Cantor," "Dr. Christian," "Al Pearce" and others.

Mr. Dumm is a naval officer veteran, having served as a fighter director officer on several Essex class carriers in the Pacific. Previous to that time he put on the air and operated KWID, at that time the world's most powerful shortwave station engaged in psychological warfare.

Having served as an announcer, writer, producer, program director and manager in his broadcasting career, Mr. Dumm now brings this wide and varied experience to KNOE as general manager. Married, and father of two children, Mr. Dumm expects his family to follow him to Monroe within the near future.

BRON CLIFFORD IS OPTIMIST GUEST

Dr. Bron Clifford, guest speaker at the Optimist Club luncheon Friday, brought a message that members felt should receive serious consideration. He told the members that religion, no matter what sect, was really religion only when a person lives and practiced it every day throughout all his associations and activities whether in business, at home, or at church. He said a person should not have a religion that was just a "Sunday-go-to-meeting" affair.

The crowd enjoyed the message Dr. Clifford brought as well as the humorous experiences he lated.

Jack Hesketh, Monroe Recreation director, invited the Optimist Club to enter a softball team in the City Civic Softball League. He said other teams had already joined or were planning to do so. The Optimist Club agrees to join and agreed to have plans completed in a few days.

Guests were Jack Hesketh, Adj. Cecil Tapp, Rev. E. A. Autrey, and Dr. Bron Clifford.

Mrs. Younse And Harry Lemert Given New Titles

Mrs. Dorothy N. Younse and Harry M. Lemert of the Northeast Junior College faculty have been appointed heads of the departments of languages and music respectively, announced Dr. Rodney Cline, dean of the college.

Mrs. Younse, assistant professor of English, has been acting head of the language department since the beginning of the second semester of the current school year to replace B. S. Hamner who accepted the position of registrar at the local college. She has been on the English faculty of the institution since it opened in 1931 as Ouachita Parish Junior College. During this period Mrs. Younse has served on numerous committees, has been adviser to the Chacahoula, yearbook, and has won special recognition on three occasions from the Student Council for her contribution to the college.

Mrs. Younse also has been actively identified with the local First Methodist Church where she has held the presidency of the Parker Memorial Sunday School class and has worked with the Missionary Society.

Mr. Lemert, assistant professor of music, has accepted the position presently held by William P. Grant, who requested that he be relieved of the responsibilities as head of the music department. Relinquishing administrative duties will provide time to devote to composition in which he is particularly interested, Mr. Grant explained.

Mr. Lemert became a member of the N. J. C. music faculty in 1939. He volunteered for military service in December 1941, and graduated from the Army Music School in November 1942 as a chief warrant officer. He was placed in charge of music of the 14th armored division which was a part of the 3rd and 7th U. S. armies in France, Germany and Czechoslovakia. During the Rhineland campaign he was awarded the Bronze Star and he also received two battle stars.

Following the end of hostilities in Europe, Lemert attended the Bamberg Art School in Bamberg, Germany.

Returning to Northeast Junior College, he has been directing the band and instructing in brasses and reeds.

He holds the B. M. E. degree from the American Conservatory of Music, Chicago, and the M. M. E. degree from Vandercook School of Music, Chicago.

UPPER LEFT: Mrs. Charles Ruffin Tidwell, Jr., the former Miss Margaret Ann Harper, whose marriage was a prominent event of the month.

UPPER CENTER: Miss Evelyn Jarrell Juneman, daughter of Mrs. Addie Lou Juneman of West Monroe, whose engagement to Mr. James Fagan Cox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fagan Cox, of this city is announced today. The wedding will take place July 1.

UPPER RIGHT: Mrs. William Charles Eisenhardt, the former Miss Margaret Mason, one of the season's popular brides, whose marriage took place May 1 at the First Christian Church.

In the pictures, lower left and lower right, are seen Miss Carol Layton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Layton, and Miss Arabella Bancroft, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Bancroft. Both young ladies are members of the graduating class of the Hockaday School, Dallas, Texas. Their parents will be present at their graduation and they will accompany them home for the summer vacation.

SPLENDID PROGRAM FEATURES MEETING OF THE MIRO BOOK CLUB WITH MRS. A. S. TIDWELL

Members of Miro Book Club who have the good of their fellow men and women at heart reviewed their year's work with considerable satisfaction last week when they met at the home of Mrs. A. S. Tidwell. It was announced at this time that club members had contributed 100 per cent to the cancer relief fund. When they disband for the summer it will be with a feeling of genuine satisfaction over work well done.

The program for the afternoon was unusually interesting. Mrs. J. B. Collins gave an informative talk on an article from the current Good Housekeeping, "The Growing Menace of Vandalism," by Morton Sontheimer. Mrs. H. M. James discussed the subject, "Women in Art," and displayed a number of reproductions of paintings by leading women artists of the world.

Mrs. W. C. Holstein reviewed the book, "The Four Cornerstones of Peace," by Vera Micheles Dean. Mrs. Holstein said in part: "The Four Cornerstones of Peace is the average, intelligent person's primer of the four world conferences, including a transcript of the entire texts in permanent form. The proposal of Dumbarton Oaks, the declaration of the Crimea conference, the act of Chapultepec, the San Francisco charter are concisely summarized and interpreted. Mrs. Dean asks the pointed, commonsense questions that all of us would like answered. Then she answers them, first with the facts, then with such an interpretation of the facts as only a great student of international affairs and a great humanitarian could give. Her book deals with or is an analysis of the documents on international organization that came from the four conferences — Dumbarton Oaks, Yalta, Mexico City and San Francisco. She says she was inspired to write the book, which is called by one critic 'The Primer of the Four World Conferences' because she wanted to answer the questions most frequently asked about the conferences by men and women throughout the country; men and women who are voters and who will finally have to pass judgment on the steps the United Nations will take to implement the charter of the U. N. organization. She feels that these human beings whose destiny is being shaped by the day to day developments of a critical period cannot, should not have to wait for definite volumes to be compiled by historians. They need to understand the significance of long term trends behind the headlines now.

"The success of the United Nations organization will depend, we now see, on the willingness of the nations composing it to make it work. This will be particularly true of the United States because this country, now that the war is over, not only has at its disposal the greatest industrial and financial resources of any nation in the world, but, because it has no extensive territorial ambitions, will be in a peculiarly favorable position to maintain a balance between the conflicting interests of other great powers, to play the role of disinterested mediator.

"But even those of us who sincerely want the United States to play this role, and to cooperate with other nations in all fields of endeavor, do not always understand the difficulties of developing such a policy. This country until recently had been acting in world affairs as if it had not moved much beyond the stage it occupied when the 13 colonies joined into a Federal Union. We are more accustomed to making unilateral declarations of policy, such as the Monroe doctrine and the policy of the 'open door' than to taking action in concert with other nations. The very fact that the United States has traditionally avoided alliances has fostered a habit on our part of making our own decisions, and then proclaiming them to the world; yet we resent it when other great powers, for example Britain or Russia, do the same thing, and we demand to be consulted. The only important exception to this tradition of ours—and that only during the past decade—has been our policy of consulting with Latin American countries and Canada on problems of the Western Hemisphere. This good neighbor policy marks great progress as compared with our attitude toward the League of Nations.

"But it is still difficult to make Americans realize that if we are to develop a cooperative foreign policy, we shall have to learn to consult continuously with other nations; listen to their grievances, just as we tell them ours; make compromises they urge, just as we ask them to make compromises. We have to learn that our own ideals and desires, no matter how noble they seem to us, cannot be carried out in practice if this country acts alone. And if we want to enlist the cooperation of other nations in carrying them out, we shall have to take into consideration their ideals and desires, which may not always be the same as ours. This applies, too, to the international system of collective security. We cannot impose our conception of an ideal system on the rest of the world. We must build it in concert with other nations."

At the conclusion of the program the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Vernon LaCour, served delicious refreshments to the following members: Mrs. F. C. Bennett, Mrs. John Pracher, Mrs. H. V. Collins, Mrs. J. B. Collins, Mrs. H. M. James, Mrs. C. R. Tidwell, Mrs. W. M. Greenwell, Mrs. S. M. Collins, Mrs. Lelia Guyton, Mrs. W. C. Holstein, Mrs. A. L. Peters, Mrs. F. L. Smith, Mrs. W. G. Murphy and Mrs. J. W. Murphy.

Monroe Girls Will Graduate From Stephens

Two Monroe girls, Miss Ida Sophie Davidson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David L. Davidson and Miss Jacquelyn James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. James will be among the 350 senior students to be graduated from Stephens College, Columbia, Mo., on Tuesday, May 27. This year's graduating class is distinguished by the fact that Dr. James Madison Wood, president of the college for the past 35 years, will receive his diploma along with the members of the senior class. The honorary A. A. degree which will be conferred upon him will be the first ever to be given in the 114-year history of Stephens College, and will be added to the impressive list of those he has already received.

Dr. Wood, who has developed Stephens College into an internationally known educational institution for women during his administration, with an enrollment that has grown from 52 to over 2,220, will formally retire on June 3. At that time he will be succeeded by Dr. Homer Price Rainey, former head of the American Youth Commission who has served as president of Franklin College, Bucknell University and the University of Texas. Dr. Rainey recently received the Thomas Jefferson award for 1946 in the field of education.

Commencement activities at Stephens began with the final formal dinner on Thursday, May 15, followed by the Senior Prom on two consecutive nights, May 16 and 17, in the Lela Raney Wood ballroom at the college with music by Ted Weem's orchestra.

A concentrated five-day program of activities for the 114th senior class started on Friday, May 23, with the presentation of the commencement play, the "Seven Sisters." The annual water carnival at the Stephens lake and the commencement horse show took place on the following day.

The traditional White Sunday observance was the highlight of the baccalaureate service that night. Dr. Railey, president-elect, delivered the address to the outgoing seniors.

A full program has been planned for the day preceding the commencement exercises, including the annual awards convocation, the senior dinner, and a farewell pageant and program honoring Dr. Wood, retiring president.

The Honorable Hugh Stephens, president of the board of curators of the college, will deliver a brief commencement address, summing up the 55-year term of Dr. Wood as president of the college, and other special features will highlight the occasion.

The Areme Club met in the home of Mrs. Grace Williams, 700 South Second street, with Mrs. Pearl Clark, Mrs. Katherine Henderson and Mrs. Evelyn Bradley co-hostesses.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Thirty-nine members paid their dues for the year. The treasurer reported $141.10 and it was voted to set aside $50.00 toward the purchase of new pedestals for use by Louise L. McGuire Chapter No. 4, O. E. S. and also to buy immediately a new flag and kneeling pads for the chapter. A very interesting program followed after which delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses to the following members:

Mesdames Colier, Courtney, Sullivan, Miller, Culver, Mulhern, Freeman, Gwin, Zoll, Thomas, Johnson, Gill, Monroe, Morgan, Bruce, Cozine, Benoit, Bonnell, Bell, Hartman.

ANNUAL SENIOR CLASS PLAY AT O. P. H. S.

Luncheon At The La Casa Honors Seniors

Mrs. William Farmer Patton Jr., of Tallulah, entertained six attractive members of the Tallulah high school senior class at luncheon at the La Casa tea room last week. Her guest of honor on this occasion was Miss Jimmie Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Smith of Tallulah.

A green-and-white motif, reflecting the colors of the Tallulah Senior class, was effectively woven into the color scheme. Beautiful grandiflora magnolia blossoms and foliage formed the centerpiece, encircled with shining magnolia leaves. The white place cards adorned with the class flowers, gardenias, were painted in pale green and white, and set in gold leaves. On these the names of the guests were artistically handwritten in green script, by Mr. James Goosman, a gifted Northeast Junior College student from New York.

The guests on this occasion included the following Tallulah High school seniors: Miss Jimmie Smith, the honoree; Miss Ann Antley, Miss Elizabeth Benjamin, Miss Betty Harrop, Miss Jesse Lee Lott, and Miss Nancy Carroll Wood. Miss May Read, secretary to the Dean of Northeast Junior College was also a guest and later in the afternoon entertained the visitors with a conversational hour at the Social room of Northeast Junior College. Mrs. Wood Brown, college hostess, Mrs. Mayme Griffey Stroud, housemother, and college students from Tallulah, assisted Miss Read in extending courtesies.

Miss Mason Weds Mr. R. Eisenhardt

Wedding Of Interest Attracts Friends To The First Christian Church

One of the loveliest weddings of the season took place at the First Christian church May 18, when Miss Margaret Alice Mason, daughter of Mrs. Patrick Claiborne Mason of West Monroe, became the bride of Mr. William Charles Eisenhardt, son of Mrs. William Eisenhardt of New York City at three-thirty o'clock in the afternoon.

The church was bright with candlelight and fragrant with the perfume of many flowers overflowing from tall Marie Antoinette baskets placed in the background and forming a semi-circle near the altar for the wedding praty. Cathedral tapers, flaming high in the background were lighted by Mr. Wilkins Rickerson and Mr. Herbert Land, Jr.

The organist, Mrs. Hoy Mitchell, rendered a prenuptial concert featuring the bride's favorite numbers. The soloist, Mrs. Buford R. Brazzill, sang "At Dawning", and "I Love Thee."

The maid of honor, Miss Peggy Mason, cousin of the bride, and the matron of honor, Mrs. Hodge E. Mason, wore lovely lace and net models of aqua blue and carried heart shaped bouquets of painted daisies. They were tied with pink net and carried over the arm.

The bridesmaids, Miss Annie Mae Wall and Miss Nell Terry McCormick, wore pink lace and net models and also carried bouquets of painted daisies on their arms. The flower girl, Ouida Diane McGee wore a pink lace and net model and a miniature heart shaped bouquet of pink daisies.

Mr. Finis Lucien Lowe Jr., served as best man. The groomsmen were Messers Herbert H. Lane, Jr., Dean Hodges and Wilkins Rickerson.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Hodge Mason, wore an old-fashioned wedding gown of imported lace fashioned with tiny rows of lace. The bodice was tight fitting with round yoke of net. Her finger-tip veil of lace was caught to the hair with a chaplet of flowers. She wore long white lace gloves and carried a bouquet of bride's roses and orchids.

Following the ceremony, performed by Rev. R. T. Watson, a reception was held at the Mason home in West Monroe. Mrs. Mason received in a blue crepe model with corsage of pink roses. She was assisted by the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Eisenhardt who wore a model of aqua blue with corsage of pale pink gladiolus.

The reception suite was in lovely floral attire with magnolia blossoms predominating. Shasta daisies and white roses were used to advantage in the background.

The bride's table in the dining room was overlaid with a handsome lace cloth adorned with the beautifully embossed, three-tiered wedding cake, surmounted with a trellis entwined with crystalized white roses. Mrs. Finis Lowe, wearing a pink crepe model with a corsage of pink roses, presided over the punch bowl.

A variety of confections, including individual wedding cakes were served by a few of the bride's most intimate friends, Miss Kaye Moak, Miss Eva Gae Penton, Miss Jocelyn Wall, Miss Samie Mason and Miss Ouida Welch.

The beautiful gifts were on display in the library. Noted among them was a complete silver service, two complete sets of china and many odd pieces of silver, china and crystal.

The bride changed her wedding gown for a handsome tailleur of green with accessories of brown and a corsage of orchids. Before leaving on the honeymoon, via airways to Colorado, the bride tossed her wedding bouquet. It was caught by Miss Kaye Moak.

The bride is a graduate of Ouachita Parish high school and Northeast Junior college. She is a member of Delta Rho Delta and at the time of her marriage was associated with the Brown Paper Mill company.

Mr. Eisenhardt is a graduate of the Manual Training school and a graduate of Columbia University of New York. He is a member of Sigma Nu fraternity. He was recently released from the Marine Corps where he served as Captain. He is now associated with the United States Geological Survey.

After the first of June Mr. and Mrs. Eisenhardt will be at home at Mountain Home, Idaho.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were: Mrs. William Eisenhardt, and Mrs. Milton John Redlich of New York City; Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Stone, Mr. and Mrs. Hoy Mitchell, Mr. Prentiss Mitchel, Mrs. Myrtis Burnette, all of Jackson, Mississippi; Mrs. J. O. Pilcher of Baton Rouge, La.; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Cannon, Jr., Oak Grove; Mr. and Mrs. Finis Lowe, Mrs. Finis Lowe, Jr., Mrs. M. P. Hodges, Mr. Dean Hodges, Mr. and Mrs. John L. LUNCHEON AT THE FRANCES HOTEL CLIMAXES SEASON FOR WELCOME BRANCH BOOK CLUB

A beautifully appointed luncheon climaxed the year's activities for members of the Welcome Branch of Twentieth Century Book Club when they met in the Mirror room of the Frances Hotel, on Wednesday. A large crystal bowl containing magnolia, the club flower, placed on the concert grand piano, was the cynosure of all eyes, sharing honors with an oblong green crystal plaque of Madonna lilies and white asters, which made a beautiful decor for the speakers' table. Oblong white containers filled with orchid sweet peas, white oxalis and painted daisies were placed at intervals down the full length of the tables.

Mrs. A. S. Gunter president, presided and gave cordial welcome to members and guests. The invocation was given by Mr. E. C. Gibson, vice-president. The highlight of the afternoon was the announcement by Mrs. Zell Smith, Chairman of "Clubwoman" magazine, that an article written by Mrs. Edwin E. Sisson, a member of the club, which features the history of Welcome Branch from the time of its organization, will appear in the forthcoming current issue of "The Clubwoman", which is the official monthly publication of General Federation of Women's Clubs, published at Washington, D. C. This article also features the club's project library at Cooley Sanitarium. The club is justly proud of this distinct contribution and honor for the welfare and distinction of their organization. Mrs. H. V. Collins, Chairman of Library Commission, reported that six books had been purchased or donated to the Cooley project library, including May Smith White's volume of poetry, "These Are My Hills".

Members and guests were privileged to hear Mrs. A. D. Tisdale, immediate past state president of Louisiana Federated Women's Clubs, give an interesting report on her recent trip to Washington, D. C., during which she visited General Federation Headquarters, and engaged in an interesting conversation with the national president, Mrs. LaFell Dickinson. She stressed the necessity of close study of the reciprocal trade agreement, now occupying national headlines. Mrs. Tisdale concluded her informative talk with a special appeal to all clubwomen to give this vital question due prominence in their thinking, and future activities, because this issue may well affirm either war or peace in America's future.

Gratitude and appreciation was expressed to Mrs. E. A. Porter, general chairman of luncheon arrangements, and her co-chairman, Mrs. George Phebus, for their efficiency in planning for the highlight event of the club year. Recognition was also given to the flower committee, Mrs. H. V. Collins, Mrs. Henson Coon and Mrs. V. S. Garnett for the artistry of their decorations, and to Mrs. V. S. Garnett for the exquisitely beautiful corsages which she made and presented to officers and special guests.

In honor of National Poetry Week, the program chairman, Mrs. J. Norman Coon, introduced Mrs. J. R. White, state chairman of literature and poetry, who gave informative highlights of her duties in this capacity, and its increasing importance in Federation program planning each year, since the idea was conceived by Anita Brown, of New York, in 1920. Mrs. White read "High Flight," by John J. McGee, Jr., written during World War II, just before the author's death. This beautiful sonnet is now considered a classic. Other poems read were Cosette Middleton's "In The Beginning," published in "The Clubwoman," and Mrs. White's own original poem, "All Shadowed Leaves Turn Gold," reprinted in "The Pen Woman," from her book of poetry. Her poem, "Teen Age Tillie," published in Holland's Magazine, concluded her readings.

Mrs. L. V. Tarver read her original true story, a short-short, entitled "American Scene," which received much favorable comment.

At intervals during the program period, musical numbers were provided by Mrs. H. D. Holmes, who played an arrangement of Rasbach's "Trees," and Mrs. A. R. Doughty, who sang "Among My Souvenirs," as a lovely tribute to this last meeting of the club year, and the plantation song, "Ma Curly Headed Babbie," by Clutsam, as an encore.

Mrs. V. S. Garnett read her own poem, published in a recent issue of Kaleidograph, a national poetry magazine of distinction and quality, entitled, "Thank God The Birds Have Songs." Mrs. E. C. Gibson gave a group of her own poems called "Hay Fever," and "Human Leaves." In conclusion, Mrs. E. Everett Lawson read her poem, "Words Against the Night," which is published in the May issue of "The Pen Woman," official magazine of the National League of American Pen Women, and a newly written lyric in honor of the spring season, entitled, "May Is A Princess."

An inspirational talk was given by Mrs. A. S. Gunter, president, expressing pleasure in her year's duties, and appreciation for loyal cooperation of members and executive board. She then passed the president's gavel to Mrs. A. J. Speer, who accepted her chairmanship for 1947-48 with a few well chosen remarks.

The new year books were presented to members by Mrs. Henson Coon, chairman for the next club year. The subject of next year's study will be "Portrayal of America in Current Literature."

Present were: Mrs. F. E. Black, Mrs. H. V. Collins, Mrs. Henson Coon, Mrs. J. Norman Coon, Mrs. A. R. Doughty, Mrs. R. H. Dollar, Mrs. V. S. Garnett, Mrs E. C. Gibson, Mrs. A. S. Gunter, Mrs. R. R. Griffith, Mrs. W. D. McGee, Jr., Mrs. M. R. Hausherr, Mrs. E. P. Jenevein, Mrs. Thomas Jett, Mrs. H. D. Holmes, Mrs. E. Everett Lawson, Mrs. Harry Moore, Mrs. J. E. McConnell, Mrs. J. D. Petty, Mrs. Leola Nixon, Mrs. George Phebus, Mrs. E. A. Porter, Mrs. T. H. Scott, Mrs. Zell Smith, Mrs. A. J. Speer, Mrs. L. V. Tarver, Mrs. W. B. Wheelis, Mrs. J. R. White, Mrs. Richard Whitehurst, and Mrs. E. J. Whitman. Guests were: Mrs. L. G. Banta, Mrs. A. D. Tisdale, Mrs. E. W. Cruse, Mrs. E. A. Porter, Jr., Mrs. E. R. Whitaker and Mrs. M. Rice.

Annual Senior Class Play Is Great Success

One of the most enjoyable events associated with commencement at the Ouachita Parish High school is the annual senior class play. This year's play, a clever three-act comedy, "Skidding," was skillfully directed and presented May 20 by Miss June Schultz, head of the speech department. The play, with its wealth of humor and pathos, was enjoyed by a large and enthusiastic audience. The versatility displayed by the members of the cast provided variety to the type of entertainment.

In "Skidding" the scenes take place in the home of the famous Andy Hardy family in a small Idaho town. Judge James Andrew Hardy, portrayed by Bobby Joe Jackson, and Marion Hardy, his daughter, by Doris Rae Jones, are typical members of this American family.

Crooked politicians are opposing the re-nomination of the Judge. Although Mrs. Hardy, played by Violet Rea Wilbanks, lacks political knowledge, she gives her husband sympathetic understanding. The first love affair of Andy Hardy, played by Donald Barnes, changes him from a careless, adolescent boy to a well-groom young man. On her return from college his sister, Marion, announces her engagement to Wayne Trenton, the role played by Danny Christman. Marion so involves herself in her father's political campaign that she is nominated to the state legislature. Because of this career she decides to break her engagement; then too, her sisters, Myra, Jean Johnston, and Estelle, Virginia Brady, were unhappy in their marriages. Mrs. Hardy is successful in bringing the couples together again. Aunt Milly portrayed by Marna Hynum, surprises the family by giving her confession. "The Memoirs of An Old Maid." Stubbins, Judge Hardy's campaign manager, played by J. W. Touchstone, announces that Judge Hardy was finally nominated, and all are happy except Marian. Jimmy Pettit, as Grandpa Hardy, is instrumental in bringing Marion and Wayne together by showing her that marriage, not a career, is what she wants in life.

The artistic posters advertising the play were made by the art department. The advertising committee consisted of Carolyn Bagwell, Anna Marie Perry, Patsy Mims, and Joe Perdue. Mrs. Malcolm Le Fevre supervised the ticket sales.

Ushers were Bonnie Lou Adams, Joyce Talley, Anna Marie Perry, Patsy Mims, Janice Motley, Virginia Bell, Faye Ruth Davis, Yvonne Whittington, Jeanne Goza, Natallia Hampton, Marine Anding and Mary Jo Barfoot.

Donald Johnson was stage manager; Evely Cowan and Yvonne Whittington, property managers. Furniture for the stage setting was generously donated by West Monroe Durrett Furniture Company, the New York Furniture Company, and Sears and Roebuck Company.

BRIDE OF RECENT DATE

RAINBOW INN WILL BE THE SCENE OF OLD FASHIONED MELODRAMA ON JUNE SECOND

You will have an opportunity to hiss the villian and to applaud the heroine when "The Drunkard" is presented at the Rainbow Inn by the Little Theatre, June 2nd and 3rd.

This old time melodrama, directed by Kay Crandall will be given on the improvised stage while the audience sits in comfort at the tables encircling the dance floor.

The cast of "The Drunkard" announced today by Miss Crandall, follows: Herbert Nobes, the Landlord; Bid Causey, Mr. Cribbs, the villian; Len Reinsmith, William Downtown; Vettye Bernhardt, Mary Wilson; Harry Florsheim, Farmer Gates; James Gilmer, Farmer Stevens; Dee Stanley, Agnes; Bert Bernheim, Mr. Rencelaw; Judy Caraway, Miss Spindle; Joe Saragusa, Ed Middleton; Evelyn Kennedy Reinsmith, Mrs. Wilson; Tommie Ann Bivens, Julia; Max Criden, the messenger boy; Harold Morrison, the boy; and others to be cast later.

"The Drunkard" was first produced at the Boston Museum in 1844. And there could have been no better time chosen for the production than that particular season. It was played that season of upwards of one hundred and forty times. No unprejudiced person will deny that it was the cause of much good at that time and materially aided the Temperance movement it was meant to advocate.

The official 1946-47 season of the Monroe Little Theatre closed with the presentation of "You Can't Take it With You". May 14th and 15th and "The Drunkard" is being presented by Kay Crandall, sponsored by the Little Theatre. Admission will be by tickets only and not by the past season's membership cards.

Plans are now under way for the inauguration of the next season's plays, and officers elected on the board of directors at the board meeting held this week, are: Joe Kern, president; C. C. Boardman, first vice-president; Eula Davenport, second vice-president; Armandine Renaud, secretary; Frank Breese, treasurer.

Other members of the 1947-48 Little Theatre board are: Richard Troy Sr., Village Feezel, Fred Fudickar, Jr., Dorothy Graves, Rose Serwich, Maurice Glazer, Blanche Oliver, Elliott Thompson, H. H. Brinsmade and W. B. Inabnet.

Miss Wilson Is The Bride Of Mr. F. Voelker

The marriage of Miss Virginia Lee Wilson, daughter of Mrs. George W. Wilson of Chatham, New Jersey, and the late Mr. Wilson to Mr. Frank Voelker, Jr., son of Judge and Mrs. Voelker of Lake Providence, Louisiana, took place the 24th of May in Saint Patrick's Roman Catholic Church, Chatham, New Jersey. The Reverend Father Joseph Dempsey performed the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her brother, George Crawford Wilson, the bride wore a gown of ivory satin made with a full skirt terminating in a train. Her heirloom lace veil was fastened to a wreath of orange blossoms. Her only ornament was a small diamond cross which belonged to the groom's maternal grandmother. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis and lilies of the valley.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Robert Twohig, of Huntington, W. Va., and Mrs. Stephen Guenard, sister of the bridegroom. They were gowned in pale aqua taffeta made with a draped hip line and a bustle back. Their flowers were arm bouquets of American beauty roses.

Mr. Stephen Guenard served his brother-in-law as best man.

A reception for members of the families and out-of-town guests followed the ceremony, at the Hotel Suburban.

The bride attended Notre Dame of Maryland and received her degree from Marshall College, Huntington, W. V.

Mr. Voelker received his A. B. degree from Louisiana Tech and his L. L. B. degree from Tulane University. He is a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon and Phi Delta Phi fraternities. He served during the war as a pilot in the U. S. marine corps.

After a wedding trip in the east the young couple will reside in Lake Providence where Mr. Voelker is engaged in the practice of law.

RETIRES FROM OFFICE

Mrs. W. Perkins, former president of the Pilot Club, presided over the installation service dinner at the Frances hotel recently.

One of the loveliest compliments extended Miss Margaret Mason prior to her marriage on May 18 to Mr. William Eisenhardt, was the luncheon in the Cameo Room of the Virginia Hotel. The hostesses on this occasion were Mrs. L. J. Hulin and Mrs. M. L. Padgett.

The luncheon table was beautifully appointed and florally adorned with a dramatic arrangement of American Beauty roses.

At Miss Mason's place were two pieces of silver in her chosen pattern and a corsage to match the lovely trousseau model she wore on this occasion.

The guests in addition to Miss Mason were: Mrs. P. C. Mason, the bride's mother, Mrs. William Eisenhardt, the groom's mother of New York City, Mrs. Milton J. Redlich, also of New York City, Mrs. S. A. Stone, of Jackson, Miss., Mrs. L. J. Hulin, Mrs. M. L. Padgett, Mrs. Howard J. Smith, Miss Patricia Lee Padgett, Miss Barbara Ann Hulin and Mrs. Jarrell L. Hulin.

Mrs. Evans Etheridge entertained members and guests of the Readers' Clique at their recent meeting in her home on Gordon avenue.

The business meeting was opened with the members reading the Collect in unison. The president, Mrs. Jack Masur, thanked Mrs. Etheridge, who served as chairman of the Easter egg project, and those who worked with her, for the splendid work and success of this project. At this time plans were completed for the annual club party at the Morgan camp on Bayou DeSiard.

The hostess introduced the speaker for the afternoon, Mrs. J. P. Harris. Mrs. Harris presented a very interesting demonstration on care and the use of attachments of a sewing machine. Mrs. Etheridge had her machine placed in the living room and members were privileged to gather around and ask questions concerning the machine and various attachments. Mrs. Harris first demonstrated how to clean and oil the machine.

Following this interesting program the hostess served a frosted drink and individual cakes to the following members and guests:

Mrs. Clay Albright, Mrs. Joe Bennett, Mrs. E. W. Crowley, Mrs. Sidney Gill, Mrs. J. S. Harbuck, Mrs. Burl Hollis, Mrs. Mike John, Jr., Mrs. Raymond John, Mrs. Ivy Jordan, Mrs. Oliver Lowery, Mrs. Jack Masur, Mrs. Evans Etheridge, Mrs. H. C. Does Stomach Gas and Bloat Make You Feel Miserable?

If so, here is how you may get blessed relief in freeing your stomach from this nervous distress. It works this way:

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with overdoses of soda and other alkalizers to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Sixty-Five Years Of Knights Of Columbus Show Big Progress

The program of the Knights of Columbus, based upon its ideals of charity, unity, fraternity and patriotism, offers a rich comprehensive field of endeavor and accomplishment. Catholic men united in the organization do much to protect the best interests of Church and Country. By united action for over 60 years, the Knights of Columbus has demonstrated that it can be, and is, a powerful bulwark against the enemies of country, of Church and of God.

As a body of selected Catholic laymen, the organization of the Knights of Columbus has many marks of distinction placing it and its members apart from all other organizations. As one of the many ways the Knights of Columbus differs from organizations founded for the express purpose of furthering the interests of themselves and their members, the Knights of Columbus presents itself to the general public as a body of Catholic men united, not for their own selfish welfare, but for the purpose of service to their fellow-men.

In every walk of life the name of the Knights of Columbus brings to the average man the thought of an organization, silently going about its tasks of charity and fraternalism and composed of men who are giving, unselfishly, of their time and talents in the service of their God and their Country. This thought has not been given to the public by any agency of the Knights of Columbus—it has become the identifying mark of the Knights of Columbus because of its ever-presence at the point of danger to the common welfare, the family or the home.

Fearlessly it has presented to the public information of threatening danger that would undermine the basic principles of the faith which gave to the pioneers and the settlers of our country the hope, the trust and the perserverance to enable them to leave to us a grant of independence and a constitution guaranteeing to us and charging us to guarantee to our children our right and their right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, those inalienable rights the All Just and All Wise Creator endowed to man.

The Knights of Columbus, amongst men, has never permitted a denial of that Creator and it has courageously defended man's right to enjoy those guarantees so properly expressed by our forefathers. It has taken its stand to the knowledge of all the world as definitely committeed to the protection of those rights against any who would deny them. It has, through its association with the public, earned for itself a name of Christian brotherhood, of patriotism, of love and obedience to God and His laws.

To its ranks come those who, too, are inspired with the feelings of gratitude and devotion which makes them possessed of a knowledge of the value of the fruits of their labor, of the ones who in the past gave of their best that we, today might know of and enjoy the rights our Creator intended should be ours. They are drawn together, as Knights of Columbus, because of the mutual desire to be part of the grand army of builders of a country and a home where man may live in harmony with his neighbors and perform his duty to his Creator in freedom and in the peace of men of good will. They are determined that the gains of the past shall not be allowed to crumble away through neglect—they value them too highly to permit them to be forgotten by the teaching of false philosophies. They are the ones who realize the need of the ever alertness of the sentry who performs his duty because of love of his family and his neighbor and his God.

These are some of the reasons why the Knight is a natural leader among his neighbors. His knowledge of the value of his belief in God and of God's law has given him a purpose and we find the leader everywhere is a man with a purpose. Many men have become leaders who have been determined to accomplish a given purpose and that purpose has not always been a good purpose, nor has there been any thought of a common good behind some of the purposes that have carried men along to become leaders of others. Such leaders and such purposes are, fortunately, short-lived and, while appearing in all ages, do not live through time. Those who are inspired with the purpose to know and to spread the Truth are the ones who endure and it is to them their neighbors turn in times of peril and stress. And, so the neighbor who knows of one who has been honored with Knighthood looks to that one to be the leader in all things good.

The Knight who lives his life in accordance with the teachings of Holy Mother Church and who has learned well the lessons of Columbianism is the leader in all things good. He it is who is the ever-ready and able counselor to the drifting brother who has lost his bearings; he it is who is the one to shun the unclean and to stand between the child and the evils of the impure; he it is who is foremost in the fight for the rights and liberty of the Church and for the school and its right to teach of the belief in God, of love of our Country and the liberty it symbolizes. It is he who stands as a wall to stop the advance of the teachings of any who would change our form of government that the State and not——od be supreme.

It is the Knight, bringing the petition to be signed that some worthy cause may be advanced, who leads his neighbors in the fight for better social conditions, public welfare, child health and school measures, etc. It is the Knight, attending public gatherings, who is able to detect the first advancement of thoughts to harm the right of religious freedom, or of free speech, of free assembly, etc.

It is the Knight who, trained by his Catholic Activity studies, leads his neighbors into the ways of Christian Justice. It is the Knight who in his knowledge of his belief in God recognizes the value of that belief and leads his neighbors in the determination to defend the right to that belief at all times and at all costs. It is the Knight who inspired by his knowledge of Catholic Action lives his life with a purpose to place him before his neighbors as one who is the leader in good things.

It is the Knight knowing these many things who is also conscious of the responsibility of his leadership. Humbly grateful for the position he holds, he is also ever mindful of Him who is the Leader of all true leaders.

One of the principles upon which our Order is founded is that of fraternity. Fraternity means brotherly love and when brotherhood is forgotten blood is spilled. This has been true since the time of Cain until our own day. We believe that the continued emphasis upon fraternity will by example help to lead the post war world into a spirit that will resist hatred, that will dispose person and national sufferings and will bring man racing to the rescue of the oppressed. Unless fraternity supercedes hatred, millions more will be caught in the maelstrom of chaos.

Another principle of our Order is patriotism, the measure of self-denial, sacrifice, and devotion and loyalty to our nation is the exact measure of patriotism. To be patriotic means that we do more than tolerate the things demanded of us as citizens. Real patriotism means the conviction that we are right; the determination to save our rights and the enthusiastic will to preserve them for all time. Perhaps our patriotism could best be summed up in the last four letters of the world American—they are "I can."

The other two principles upon which our Order operates are those of Charity and Unity. Charity means not to deprive but to give; not to loot and shoot but to feed and comfort and clothe. Charity means we are our brother's keeper and the principle of true Christian charity must some day become a motivating force in the life of the world. It cannot become such a force unless first of all we defeat those to whom the world charity is unknown.

Our principles of Unity must be those which will motivate each American today. We have a job to do and one that must be done right away. It can only be done by all of us working together. America must become a unit—a living and victorious unit. There is inscribed on the American shield the Latin phrase "e pluribus unum." While that means "one for all" it must also mean "all for one."

As Knights of Columbus we rejoice in the fact that our patron founded America and as Knights of Columbus we must do all in our power so that we shall not lose America.

Graduate scholarships for training professional youth leaders were maintained at the University of Notre Dame for fifteen years from 1924 to 1939. In the field of education the Knights of Columbus also maintains a Correspondence School which is conducted for members and their families at cost and which carries on correspondence courses in cultural commercial and technical subjects.

In the first World War the Knights of Columbus expended approximately $44,000,000 in connection with its war work and its war activities for men in service. Through Knights of Columbus War Secretaries this money was expended in providing material and spiritual comfort to the boys in service. No distinction in providing this service was drawn in race, color or creed. In the second World War the Knights of Columbus devoted its resources and leadership to the work for the boys in service as Councils and through the United Service Organizations. In every part of the country where the Knights of Columbus exists its resources, its buildings, its manpower were devoted to the welfare of the men in service.

On the suggestion of Supreme Physician Dr. Edward W. Fahey, at the Supreme Convention in Cincinnati, Ohio, in 1938, the Knights of Columbus undertook the sponsorship of a Blood Donors' Program. First among the many values of this particular activity has been the preserving of hundreds of lives among our own members, their relatives, the clergy, charity patients and others in emergency cases who, according to competent medical authorities, would have died without the prompt, generous and free assistance given by the Knights of Columbus Blood Donors. Thousands of other cases have been aided to quicker post-operative recoveries, shorter says in hospitals, quicker return to their occupations, smaller hospitalization costs and faster openings of hospital space for other patients. The Knights of Columbus councils have reported to date a total of over 20,000 volunteers. The services of the Knights of Columbus Blood Donors were officially offered to the government of the United States and Canada in March, 1942 through a letter addressed to the president of the United States and to the premier of Canada.

In the January, 1942 meetings of the Supreme Board of Directors there was authorized the creation of a special War Activities Committee of the Supreme Council of the Knights of Columbus. The present Supreme Knight Judge John E. Swift of Massachusetts was appointed chairman. The territory of the Knights of Columbus was divided into twenty-one religions, each of which was headed by a Supreme Degree serving on the Regional Committees. The purpose of this committee was to encourage the participation of all units of the Knights of Columbus and all individual members in the war effort and to compile a record of such participation. Special emphasis was placed Mallet, chairman of the publicity committee of the State Council, will award plaques to the winners of the publicity contest which has been carried on among the subordinate councils throughout the year. The first place award will go to Calcasieu Council No. 1207, and Opelousas Council No. 1173 and Eunice Council No. 1745 were runners-up for second and third place, respectively, Mr. Mallet said.

During U. S. army cold-weather equipment tests in Alaska it was found that ice formed on inner tubes in sub-zero weather, making "flat spots" on tires and uncomfortable automobile riding. Tires were then successfully inflated with air from which moisture had been extracted.

BASEBALL WILL BE SPONSORED

Louisiana State Council To Support Youth Activity

Formation of a summer baseball association to be sponsored by the Louisiana State Council of the Knights of Columbus as part of the knights' state-wide youth program was announced recently by James E. Fleming of New Orleans, Director of Activities of the Knights of Columbus in Louisiana.

The program will be officially known as the Knights of Columbus All-American Amateur Baseball Association and will be affiliated with the All-American Amateur Baseball Association. The team winning the state tournament will represent the Knights of Columbus in the national tourney sometime in August.

Designed as an integral part of the youth development throughout Louisiana, the association has set June 11 and 12 as the starting dates of play. Plans are in operation at the present time to organize leagues in each of the 13 districts of the K. of C. in Louisiana. "District Deputies have been notified of the new program, and it is hoped that through their efforts leagues will be organized in each of the districts," Mr. Fleming said.

Overall chairman of the association is Joseph Scheaffer, prominent New Orleans Catholic, and member of Marquette Council No. 1437, K. of C. A number of committee chairmen have been appointed to assist Mr. Scheaffer in carrying out the program.

Six teams from the New Orleans area have signified their intention of forming a league. They are: Fortier, St. Aloysius, S. J. Peters, Redemptorist, Warren Easton and Francis T. Nicholls.

Both State Deputy Edward A. Winter and Mr. Fleming have pledged the unified support of the thousands of Knights of Columbus members in the entire state in making the summer baseball program an outstanding event. "We not only want to make this thing big here in New Orleans, but big on a state-wide basis, with teams from our thirteen districts in competition," Mr. Winter stressed at a recent meeting of the executive committee. Mr. Fleming stated that "it's up to the district deputies and the various members throughout the state to give this activity their wholehearted support."

Stressing the need for a youth program in the state, Mr. Fleming continued to say "that the Knights of Columbus feel that the high school youth must be supplied with a free time environment in which he can exercise and develop a clean, manly character. Opportunities for wholesome recreational practices must be included. As members of the Knights of Columbus we feel that it is our obvious responsibility to provide the recreational activities that are wholesome.

The league has secured the approval of the Louisiana High School Athletic Association and will function under the rules of the National Federation of High Schools.

Safeguards For America Series Warns Of Communism

There is little doubt in the minds of those who have listened to every one of the six in a series of broadcasts that are now being heard weekly on the airways of over 235 radio stations in the United States, that the Knights of Columbus are providing an invaluable educational service to all America with its warning on the dangers of Communism.

Editorial comment in some of the leading newspapers in the country testify to the interest created by the "Safeguard for America" series currently sponsored by the Knights of Columbus through the cooperation of subordinate councils and local radio stations.

This comment praising the Knights for this activity in the field of Americanism and the "Squeals" evoked from the Communists are sufficient proof that the broadcasts are striking home.

One of the first councils in the state to air their series was Monroe No. 1337. Grand Knight George Tonore reports that Station KNOE was very eager to assist them by broadcasting the programs. Monroe council published large ads in the local press, calling the attention of the public to the broadcasts. Station KPLC is broadcasting the series on Mondays and Thursdays in the ninth district for the knights in Louisiana. Other stations cooperating with the program throughout the state are KWKH, Shreveport; WJBO, Baton Rouge; KPLC, Lake Charles; KALB, Alexandria; and KAIX, Natchitoches.

Typical editorial comment discussing the series and its results is the following, reprinted from the "Sharon, Pa., Herald" of March 6, 1947:

"We do not make a habit of answering here the letters that appear in our 'Editor's Mail' column, for everyone is entitled to his own opinion on any and all subjects, but we cannot resist the urge to answer the letter in Tuesday's paper on the Knights of Columbus anti-Communism broadcast from station PIC, Sunday afternoon. The author, like everyone else, has a right to her opinions. And because we believe in free speech, we printed her letter, but that does not mean we support her opinion. In fact, we have condemned such opinions on numerous occasions in the past. They are not hers alone, but those of quite a few others in the United States today and they are expressed every once in a while by American friends of Russia, pacifists, appeasers and those who do not think clearly on international problems.

"We do not know in which of these classes our letter writer belongs, but she says, in effect, that the Knights of Columbus should not attack Communism, which is the politics, religion and government of Russia, because such attacks might promote another world war. She deplores what she sees as a lack of religious tolerance and labels the K. of C. program as hate-mongering. She evidently sees some good in Communism, which most Americans are unable to see, and should praise it, instead of condemn it.

"But the Knights of Columbus are not pacificists who prefer peace to honor, nor appeasers who have forgotten what happened when we tried to appease Nazi Germany and Japan. Nor are they political enemies of Russia—which, as the letter said—fought valiantly with the Allies (but not for them) in World War II. Also the organizations stand on international problems seldom is in error, for its membership includes many of our nation's clearest thinkers on world affairs.

"The Knights of Columbus is a Christian organization and Communism is anti-Christian. The Knights are Roman Catholics and Communism has persecuted the Roman church more than any other. It has killed and deported Catholic priests, it has seized churches and stolen other church property. It has forbidden Christian worship while lying about its belief in the freedom of religion. Its doctrines, as evidenced by its deeds, are the very opposite of Christian doctrines. And Communism is militant. It does not countenance religious tolerance, but insists that its atheistic precepts must be supreme in the guidance of mankind. It does not believe in the dignity of the individual (a fundamental Christian precept), although it would like to have us think that it does. It does not believe in what we know as democracy, but rules millions of unenlightened people under a one party political aristocracy which is an absolute dictatorship. It believes in and practices murder to enforce its decrees, if necessary, and stoops to 'blood purges' and banishment to Siberia to silence those in Russia who oppose it.

"Handed the opportunity by the Allies during and immediately after the recent war, Communism, with Russian leadership, manpower and natural resources as its vehicles, seeks domination of the world, which would mean that Christianity, democracy, economic and physical freedom of many other nations and freedom of the individual would vanish or be relegated to minor places in life. That is where the Knights of Columbus and their attack on Communism fit into the picture. The Knights see the menace and have decided to fight it before it results in the enslavement of other nations and other peoples, including their own.

"As we have said already, the K. of C. is a strong Christian organization. It does not believe in pulling its punches in a fight and is not doing so now. Its quarrel is not with the Russian people, and it is not lacking in brotherhood or religious tolerance. It sees, as does almost everyone else in America, that Communism seeks to conquer the world in one way or another and that counter-measures must be taken now in the name of Christianity, freedom and democracy.

"That is what the Knights are trying to do in their Sunday broadcasts. They are not seeking another war and they are not picking on Russia, but are pointing out the fact that we want her to keep her brand of religion, politics and government at home. If the broadcasts don't please everyone it is too bad, but neither does Communism.

POLAND SEEK TOURISTS

GDANSK, Poland—(AP)—The Hel peninsula, scene of fierce fighting in the last days of World War II and once a famous resort, is again oidding for foreign visitors.

Polish authoritics have started a big program of clearing, reconstructing and re-foresting the peninsula. Several resorts, highly successful with Polish and foreign guests before the war, have resumed operations.

The peninsula, which closes Gdansk (Danzig) Bay, was strongly fortified by the Germans because of its strategic importance. The Germans built over 200,000 shelters in its small area, using a part of fishermen's houses dismantling a church in Kuznica and cutting down nearly 40,000 square meters of timber.

Telephones in the 1920's were out of order about once in 15 months and were repaired in about five hours. Today telephones function properly for an average of 30 months and two hours are needed to complete repairs.

Miss Schuster Will Wed Prentiss E. Cox

Marriage Of Popular Couple Will Be Solemnized In The Home Of Mrs. Tom Adams

Among the events claiming the interest of friends throughout the state is the announcement made today by Mr. and Mrs. Michael Schuster of Shreveport of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Barbara Jean, to Mr. Prentiss Edward Clark, son of Mrs. Travis W. Shannon, formerly of Monroe and now of New Orleans. The marriage will be solemnized in the home of the bride-elect's aunt, Mrs. Tom Adams of Monroe on Saturday evening, May 31 at 7:30 o'clock.

Miss Schuster is a graduate of Northeast Junior College and the University of North Carolina. On the local college campus she became actively identified with student life. She held the vice-presidency of the freshman class and Delta Psi Omega, national dramatic honor fraternity, membership in Phi Theta Kappa, national junior college honor society. She also was editor of the college newspaper, Pow Wow, which received an All-American rating during this time.

At the University of North Carolina Miss Schuster participated in the International Relations Club and National Psychology fraternity.

Mr. Clark, who is majoring in journalism at Louisiana State university, also graduated from Northeast Junior College, where he was cadet captain, president of the student body and editor of the Pow Wow. He held membership in Delta Psi Omega and the Gold Jacket Club.

Soon after graduating he entered the navy, where he saw service for three years. Following his discharge he matriculated at L. S. U., where he became a member of the Reveille staff and the debate team. He will be in charge of news broadcasts from the university radio station, WLSU.

Wedding At St. Matthew's Church Is Of Interest

A quiet but beautiful wedding was that of Miss Evelyn Delores Biossat, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cullen Biossat of Bernice, La., and Mr. Bernie Malvern Green, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernie M. Green, Sr., also of Bernice, which was celebrated at St. Matthew's Catholic Church in Monroe. The Rev. Father Beaurence Borium performed the impressive double ring ceremony.

The church was beautifully decorated with large baskets of white gladiolus, stock and fern. Cathedral tapers gleamed in seven branched candelabras on either side of the altar. Mrs. A. M. Soula, organist, rendered a program of prenuptial music and the traditional marches were played for the processional and recessional.

Miss Frances X. Ibert served as maid of honor. She wore an ice blue crepe suit with black and white accessories, and a corsage of pink split carnations. Frances X. Ibert served as best man, and Eugene Rene Biossat, brother of the bride, was usher.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a lovely suit of blue wool gabardine with brown accessories. She carried her first communion prayer book marked with white iris and a shower of white stephonotis tied with blue satin ribbon.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held at the rectory. Beautiful flowers were placed at vantage points in the study. In the dining room the table was covered with a white venetian lace cloth. In the center was a bowl of white snap dragons and ferns. At one end was placed the beautiful, tiered wedding cake, embossed in roses and lillies of the valley. At the other end was placed a crystal punch bowl.

Mr. and Mrs. Green left later in the evening on a wedding journey. For traveling the bride wore a suit of coco brown with brown accessories and a shoulder corsage.

MATCHES ARE NOT ISSUE

NUERNBERG — (AP) — The Army's match box campaign against venereal disease has backfired.

Wives of officers have complained, it was learned today, against the matches sold at the post exchanges. The army has thousands of match boxes each bearing a slogan such as:

"VD strikes at night,"

"Use Care."

"VD—use a prophylactic."

The matches were purchased before American women came to Europe.

The complaints from the wives were that the slogans, perfectly all right to impress the soldiers, lacked a little something in propriety for the family life that is growing here.

So post exchange officers received orders in Nuernberg, Munich and Stuttgart, to halt the sale of all matches.

Cigarette lighters are selling like hotcakes.

Purely Personal

The vibrant young voices of high school seniors in a sudden burst of oratory are now heard from one end of the land to the other. How sincere and ardent are their words. Undaunted and unafraid they face the future. Regardless of what life holds always in memory will remain those last days of high school. That first important graduation . . . it happens only once but stays in your memory for years. These are the things you remember . . . the clean, bright and eager faces of schoolmates; the patient but occasionally concerned faces of the teachers; the terrifying necessity of getting a passing mark; the untarnished brightness of graduation ideals. These are the things you treasure . . . your class ring, with date and initials; the program for the commencement exercises, duly autographed; the gifts from friends, the flurry and excitement of commencement night.

In the rural past there was a village green for poets to gambol upon during the month of May. Monroe, without such a gladsome spot, need not worry, however, about a frustrated literary colony. A substitute outlet is provided through the medium of literary clubs for the frolicking spirit of spring that has moved writers as well as other folk, since time immemorial. One club in particular, the Welcome Branch Book club, boasts of several literary minded members who were privileged to express themselves at a recent luncheon at the Frances hotel. Original poems were read by Mrs. V. S. Garnett, Mrs. E. C. Gibson, Mrs. L. V. Tarver and Mrs. E. Everett Lawson. The poems were entitled: "Thank God the Birds Have Songs," "Hay Fever," "Human Leaves," "American Scene," and "Words Against the Night." Each poem possesses a certain charm.

The haunting fragrance of magnolia blossoms now hangs like incense over the city. May is the month of magnolias and the century-old trees are studded like stars in heaven, with the pure white blossoms. Members of Fort Miro chapter, D. A. R. conceived the idea of shipping magnolias to Washington, D. C. for the Louisiana luncheon held in connection with the 56th Continental Congress in session last week. Mrs. James C. Liner, regent of Fort Miro chapter, received the magnolias and states that they arrived in perfect condition. Many in attendance had never before seen a magnolia blossom and according to Mrs. Liner "they went into ecstacies" not only over the flower, but the broad, shining leaves. Southerners have grown so used to the magnolias, blooming in almost every garden year after year, we sometimes wonder if they fully appreciate their beauty to the fullest extent.

The magnolias sent to Washington were gathered from the century-old trees in the gardens of the Robert Layton home, the F. P. Stubbs home and the O'Kelly home. The O'Kelly home, by the way, is the oldest in this section of the state. It was built before the Civil War. The magnolia trees are perhaps the oldest in Monroe.

Mrs. Jase Johnson, recording secretary of Fort Miro chapter, D. A. R. and Mrs. E. G. Calvert, registrar, assisted by Mrs. James Shackleford, regent of Morehouse chapter D. A. R. were responsible for packing the magnolias and sending them via airways to Washington. Mrs. Stewart Hunt of Ruston, second vice-regent of the Louisiana D. A. R. was responsible for a bit of artistry in connection with the decor of the Louisiana luncheon table in Washington. She had paintings made of magnolia blossoms for the place cards. They were taken home by the guests as prized souvenirs of the occasion.

Now that summer approaches, club women, like the Arabs, are folding their tents and stealing away from the routine of the winter months. The time has come to talk of many things. Club reporting for instance. The society editor would like to take this opportunity to praise in highest terms the type of work submitted by more of the press reporters. Press reporters are now selected with infinite care. In times past this job was sadly neglected. Members who possessed not the slightest talent for writing would accept the office and report meetings in a slip-shod manner. Scrap paper was used and the writing, in most cases, couldn't be deciphered even by a society editor (or a tired old linotype operator) who is skilled in such things. All this has been changed during the past few years. Club reporters as a whole, submit typed copy, double-spaced and well punctuated. The importance of such an office to the uninitiated probably seems trivial but which often spells the slight difference between success and failure of paper publicity.

Even in this enlightened age the public as a whole remains blissfully ignorant of the fact that newspapers operate under such unalterable hazards as deadlines; that on the Monroe Morning World, for instance, all copy for the Sunday section must be on the society editor's desk not later than 4 p. m. on Friday. A simple inquiry would reveal this information to any one interested but each Friday and very often on Saturday a subscriber asks a special favor to overlook deadlines and get her article in the Sunday section. Loud are the wails and accusations against the hapless editor if this "important" article fails to appear.

As a courtesy to subscribers the News-Star—World Publishing Corporation prints pictures free of charge. But do the subjects cooperate by submitting, clean bright likenesses with all the pertinent information clearly written ON THE BACK of the picture? Certainly not. More often they send dark, discolored pictures with more hair-do than face showing or with countenance 50 per cent darkened and with no identity legend. If the picture is accepted (often against the better judgment of the editor) and it appears rather "messy" in print there is much criticism. How often we hear the words, "newspaper pictures are never good."

upon the cooperation of our councils in the promotion of the sale of war bonds and in enlisting its members in all possible civic, state and national war endeavors. In the spring of 1943 the Order conducted a war bond campaign which resulted in sales of $92,000,000 against a quota of $25,000,000. Knights of Columbus clubhouses were made available as centers not only for the entertainment of men in the armed services but for the use of special training groups in the war effort. Over 90,000 Knights of Columbus in armed forces, 1,200 paid the supreme sacrifice.

The War Activities Committee recommended to the Supreme Council Meeting in Toronto in 1944 that there be created a million dollar educational trust fund to provide scholarships in Catholic colleges and universities for the sons and daughters of Knights of Columbus who were killed or permanently disabled in the service of their countries. The recommendation was adopted by the Supreme Council meeting and put into effect. This program has been endorsed as one of the most significant contributions to the welfare of Catholic young manhood and womanhood ever sponsored by a fraternal organization and stands today as one of the outstanding living memorials to war veterans. Complete information of the scholarships can be obtained by writing the Supreme Office.

Another evidence of the practical charity program of the Knights of Columbus is the fact that Father McGrivney felt that Catholic families should have some financial protection in the event of the death of the breadwinner. Accordingly the Knights of Columbus insurance was adopted to provide this protection and has been so enthusiastically received that today the Knights of Columbus has over $250,000,000 insurance in force. The insurance program of the Knights of Columbus has set a remarkable record for soundness and safety and the organization's insurance program is recognized as one of the best fraternal insurance systems in the world.

In Canada the Knights of Columbus war work operated through the Knights of Columbus Canadian Army Huts Program which was organized in 1939 and which was immediately recognized by the government of Canada as a welfare agency with the Canadian forces. The Canadian Army Huts have participated with other reorganized government welfare agencies in this work and the Knights of Columbus war service operated in Canada, Newfoundland and overseas. Services were provided in camps in barrack areas in Canada and supervisors worked with the army and Royal Canadian Air Force in Europe. A Knights of Columbus supervisor accompanied the Canadian expeditionary force to Hong Kong and he was interned there.

In addition to the hundreds of national activities many of the state councils of the Knights of Columbus sponsored particular projects of their own, including the Gibault Home for Boys in Indiana; a sanatorium for members of the Knights of Columbus afflicted with tuberculosis sponsored by the State Council of the Knights of Columbus in New York State and this state also provides a number of scholarships in Catholic colleges and universities in New York State for worthy Catholic boys and girls; a Columbian home is maintained by the State Council of Missouri for the benefit of Catholic students at the University of Missouri; the State Council of Illinois maintains a placement program for homeless boys and also operates a special fund-raising program for the benefit of the Catholic Youth Organization in Chicago; hospital bed service is provided by the State Council of Massachusetts; the State Council of Connecticut is interested in the promotion of Catholic educational institutions and has made available thousands of dollars to the diocese in Hartford for this work; the State Council of Ohio sponsors the Catholic Chaplains in the various state penal institutions; the State Council of New Jersey has been active in providing equipment for the chaplains in the camps in New Jersey and has also provided a great deal of recreational material and programs for the boys in camps in that state; the State Council of Rhode Island is active in providing scholarships for worthy Catholic students in high schools and colleges. Louisiana State Council has contributed over $5.000 annually to the maintenance of Catholic Student Centers at Louisiana colleges and universities.

TWO ARRESTED, CHARGED FOR MORALS VIOLATIONS

Identified as William Cambell, originally of Virginia, and Frankie Q. Cambell, his wife, they were charged in district court with pandering and prostitution, respectively.

Picked up in a local hotel, the two were reported by police as saying they had resorted to their present employment in order to tide them over economic difficulties.

Queen Of Jaycee Affair Will Be Proclaimed At Ball On June 7

With the first annual Louisiana Water Carnival only two weeks away, interest is mounting as to who will be selected as Queen of the Carnival.

All of the civic and literary clubs of northeast Louisiana have been invited to select their candidate for queen, and at the present time, the Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of this "Mardi Gras in June," have received the following nominations; The Monroe Kiwanis Club, Miss Nelda Monroe; the Monroe Rotary Club, Miss Nancy Rothermel; the Monroe Lions Club, Miss Ruth Traylor; the Y's Men's Club, Miss Patsy Livingston; the Welcome Branch Book Club, Miss Suzanne Phebus; the Optimist Club, Miss Doris Landreaux; Northeast Junior College selected two candidates, Miss Rose Marie West of Grayson, La., and Miss Margaret Watson of Monroe; Neville High School selected Miss Juanita Dickerson.

Votes for the queen may be cast in ballot boxes which will be placed at convenient places on DeSiard street next week. Pictures of the candidates will also be placed in several town-down store windows in order that the public may become acquainted with the candidates.

The Water Carnival will open with a parade June 7, that will begin at the old Monroe city cemetery and will proceed down DeSiard street to Grand St., and south to the parish courthouse. The parade will consist of floats, sponsored by the civic clubs, literary clubs, high schools and colleges of northeast Louisiana, as well as the high school bands of this section.

The parade will end at the courthouse where the candidates for queen will be formally introduced to the public. On Saturday night the Queen of the Carnival will be crowned at a ball held in her honor on the Virginia roof. At this time she will be presented with a large loving cup and many valuable and useful gifts donated by merchants of the Twin Cities. The "runners-up" will each receive a small loving cup in recognition of their achievements.

The Water Carnival will be climaxed Sunday afternoon, June 8, with the colorful water show on the Ouachita river, south of the old traffic bridge. The $1,000 in prize money is bringing the best power boat racers of the country to this contest, as well as the fact that the contest has been approved by the American Power Boat Association. The races will include the following power boat contests: Class A, B, and C Hydroplanes, Class C Runabouts and Class C Service Runabouts. Thrills and chills galore await the spectators of this colorful event to be held in Monroe Sunday afternoon, June 8.

OKLAHOMA CITY—(AP)—Woodrow Butler assistant Oklahoma County attorney, is sure his four-year-old son Jack, is going to grow up to be a good lawyer.

"P'leeceman," he said, "what kind of bullets do you shoot in your pistol?" The officer, disarmed, explained his revolver, his bullets, his feelings for cute little boys—and tore up the ticket.

RALPH J. HENDRIX GETS NAVY MEDAL

West Monroe Youth Honored For Achievement In Pacific Campaign

NEW ORLEANS, May 24.—(Special)—Ralph J. Hendrix, 22, former aviation radioman, third class, USNR, West Monroe, La., has been awarded the Navy Air Medal, Eighth Naval District headquarters here has announced.

Hendrix, who enlisted in the navy on June 4, 1943, is a veteran of 13 months overseas service, in which he took part in the New Guinea, Philippines and Borneo campaigns.

The award, district headquarters said, was made for achievement in aerial flight as an aircrewman of a Catalina plane during action against Japanese forces in the Ceram, Celebes and Mindanao areas, on Aug. 27 and Sept. 1 and 4, 1944.

Citation for the award, signed by Secretary of the Navy James Forrestal, said that while participating in attacks on enemy shipping, Hendrix assisted materially in the sinking of four tankers, in the damaging of two other tankers and a lugger, in the capsizing of a sailboat and in the destruction of three barges.

"His courage and devotion to duty in the face of intense anti-aircraft fire were in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service," the citation said.

Hendrix's squadron, nicknamed the "Black Cats," operated only at night, hunting Japanese shipping. The Black Cat squadron is credited with the evacuation of commandoes out of New Guinea, a quarter of a mile away from Japanese positions.

PRECAUTIONS FOR WEEDICIDE GIVEN

Many Crops Likely To Be Killed Or Seriously Damaged By Use

BATON ROUGE, La., May 24.—(Special)—The Louisiana State University agricultural experiment station today asserted that further damage to crops from the use of 2,4-D could be avoided by observing the following precautions when using this chemical weed killer:

1. Spray and dusts of 2,4-D should be applied when there is the least chance of their drifting, because they will seriously injure or kill sensitive crop plants such as cotton, sweet potatoes, okra, tomatoes, peas, beans and many ornamentals.

2. Dusts particularly, and sprays under certain conditions, may drift several miles, resulting in injury or death to such plants as listed above.

3. Airplane dusting should be done when the air is calm, usually from 4:30 to 7:00 a. m., or when the air velocity does not exceed 3 miles per hour in order to prevent spread of damaging fumes of 2,4-D.

4. 2,4-D compounds are dangerous to use for killing weeds in lawns or among valuable shrubbery.

5. Spray or dust equipment used for 2,4-D applications should not be used for fungicides or insecticides.

6. Seed dealers should not store 2,4-D compounds in the same building with agricultural seeds.

Issuance of these precautions followed reports of damage done to cotton and garden crops by 2,4-D in northeast Louisiana. The station pointed out that precautions in the use of this chemical were previously listed in publications issued by the station.

In the symbolism of heraldry, murrey—red-purple—is the color of patience and sacrifice.

AND THE PIRATES
by GEORGE WUNDER
PERFECT! YOU ACTED OUT OUR LITTLE PLAYLET SUPERBLY, MY DEAR. YOUNG LEE IS FRANTICALLY HAILING A CAB TO FOLLOW US IN.
HERE'S A TAXI NOW! SEE YOU LATER.
ROGER! I'LL CALL RYAN FROM THE TRAVEL BUREAU.
QUICK! GOTTA USE YOUR PHONE— POLICE MATTER.
BUT, OF COURSE M'SIEU.
TRAVEL AGENCY
... LEMME TALK TO COMMANDANT RYAN ... HELLO, PAT? YEAH! LOOK, THINGS ARE POPPING. TERRY AND I SPOTTED ERMINE ON THE STREET A LITTLE WHILE AGO. SHE WALKED RIGHT PAST US AND INTO THIS TRAVEL BUREAU THAT I'M CALLING FROM...
TRAVEL BUREAU?
RIGHT! SHE BOUGHT TICKETS TO RIDE ON SOMETHING OR OTHER, CAME OUT AND CLIMBED INTO A CAR THAT DROVE UP JUST THEN. LOTTA BAGGAGE ON THE REAR OF THE CAR... TERRY'S TRAILING IN A TAXI...
SAY NO MORE... I'LL JOIN YOU IN A FEW MOMENTS... MEANWHILE, GET HOLD OF THE CLERK WHO WAITED ON ERMINE AND FIND OUT WHAT DESTINATION WAS PRINTED ON THOSE TICKETS.
GIVE HEED, MY CHUM. REMEMBER THE DOLL WHO WAS IN HERE A WHILE AGO? WHERE WILL THOSE TICKETS YOU SOLD HER BUY A RIDE TO?
DOLL? BUT, OF COURSE! M'SIEU MEANS THE YOUNG LADY— QUITE CHARMING, TOO! SHE PURCHASED NO TICKETS.
LET US NOT BE COY, MY GOOD MAN, OR OL' HOTSHOT WILL BE FORCED TO TEAR OFF YOUR CARNATION — NOW, WHERE...
BUT, PLEASE, M'SIEU— I DO NOT LIE. THE YOUNG LADY MERELY INQUIRED AS TO THE SHIP SAILINGS TO SEVERAL DIFFERENT PORTS.
I'D ALMOST BELIEVE THAT— IF I HADN'T SEEN HER PUTTING A SMALL ENVELOPE INTO HER BAG AS SHE LEFT HERE.
SMALL ENVELOPE? BUT CERTAINLY, M'SIEU. THE LADY WAS KIND ENOUGH TO ASK FOR SEVERAL OF MY BUSINESS CARDS TO DISTRIBUTE AMONG HER FRIENDS. I PUT THE CARDS IN ONE OF OUR REGULAR ENVELOPES.
TRAVEL AGENCY
BUSINESS CARDS! CHARLES, YOU DUMB YOKEL! I'M GETTING THE MOST HORRIBLE FEELING THAT YOU SHOULD HAVE STAYED OUT OF THE DETECTIVE BUSINESS.

WHEN BLACK CAT PULLED THE CONTROL THAT ORDINARILY PRODUCED SMOKE IN THE EXHAUST STACK, RAW GASOLINE POURED OUT INSTEAD OF OIL

---AND WHEN IT HIT THE HOLES THAT TUTWILER HAD PUNCHED IN THE EXHAUST RING, THE SHIP BURST INTO FLAMES AND---

POOR SABLE WAS AWFULLY SHAKEN UP WHEN SHE SAW THAT CRASH! SHE GRABBED ME AND CRIED LIKE A BABY!

I DON'T BELIEVE SHE'S AS HARD AND CALLOUS AS SHE TRIES TO MAKE FOLKS THINK SHE IS JACK!

THINGS COULDN'T HAVE WORKED OUT ANY BETTER IF I HAD PLANNED IT ---AS IF I DIDN'T!

BLACK CAT BARNEY WAS KNOWN AS A FLYING FIRE-HAZARD FOR BEING CARELESS AN' LETTING HIS PLANE GET DIRTY AN' GREASY!

THE WRECKAGE WAS SO BADLY BURNED THAT TH' INVESTIGATORS COULDN'T FIND ANY EVIDENCE OF SABOTAGE, SO IT WAS JUST ANOTHER ACCIDENT!

WELL, THE BLACK CAT OBSTACLE ON THE ROAD TO WEALTH HAS BEEN ELIMINATED! SABLE IS NEXT!

NOW THAT SABLE IS MENTALLY UPSET, I'M GONNA KEEP HER MIND HOPPED UP WITH THE THOUGHT OF HORRIBLE CRASHES!

I'M GOING TO LEAVE STORIES AN' PICTURES OF GRUESOME ACCIDENTS ALL AROUND HER FLYING OFFICE!

I WON'T LET HER SEE THESE STATISTICS ABOUT THE MILLIONS OF MILES THAT ARE FLOWN WITHOUT FATALITIES---I'LL ONLY LEAVE BAD NEWS STORIES!

LATER:

HELLO, MISS SABLE! WASN'T IT AWFUL ABOUT BLACK CAT BARNEY?

--- HE WAS SUCH A FINE CHAP--- HIS DEATH WAS SO UNTIMELY, BUT I GUESS PLANES WILL CRASH!

PLEASE, MR. TUTWILER, I'D RATHER NOT TALK ABOUT IT! I HAVE A LOT OF MAIL TO GO THROUGH!

I'M SORRY, MISS SABLE! I KNOW SEEING A MAN BLOWN TO BITS BEFORE YOUR EYES MUST HAVE BEEN A HORRIBLE SIGHT---

ZACK MOSLEY MAY-25

GOOD NIGHT, MISS SABLE, I HAVE TO ARRANGE SOME PUBLICITY FOR YOUR NEXT SHOW!

YOU'RE SCHEDULED TO DO THE LOW INVERTED FLYING ACT IN BLACK CAT'S PLACE--- SO, DO BE CAREFUL!

CRASHES, CRASHES! A STUDENT CRASHES IN ARGENTINA--- A TRANSPORT IN INDIA FLIES INTO A PEAK---A RESCUE PLANE LOST AT SEA---

--STUNT PILOT BLOWN TO BITS IN FRONT OF CROWD! IT HAPPENED TO THEM--- IT HAPPENED TO BLACK CAT--- IT COULD HAPPEN TO SABLE NEXT!

TARZAN

by

EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

THE GIRL'S PLEAS WERE LOST ON THE THICK-HEADED MAGISTRATE WHO HAD TARZAN LOCKED IN JAIL TO AWAIT TRIAL FOR CAPTAIN CATLIN'S TRUMPED-UP CHARGES.

TARZAN WHISPERED TO DALLAS, "WHEN THE CHANCE COMES, WE'LL MAKE A BREAK FOR IT!"

DALLAS TOOK TARZAN'S ADVICE. IN A WATERFRONT CAFE, SHE ASSUMED GOOD FELLOWSHIP. CATLIN PRESSED HIS ATTENTIONS. "YOU'RE OKAY, BABY," HE MOUTHED. "WHEN WE GET THOSE DIAMONDS, WE'LL GO PLACES!"

"WE START IN THE MORNING FOR THE MINE! HOW ABOUT A GOODNIGHT KISS, BEAUTIFUL?"

THE CAPTAIN'S SMIRK SWITCHED TO FEAR AS A COLD GUN MUZZLE JABBED HIS RIBS. UP WENT HIS HANDS.

"HOLD IT, YOU RIVER RATS. I WANT THAT MAP!" DALLAS HISSED. MUNGO LAUGHED. "BUT I MAILED IT TO ALBERTVILLE.... TO MR. DIRK MUNGO, ESQUIRE!"

TARZAN GRINNED AS THE JAILER UNLOCKED HIS CELL. "GOOD GIRL, DALLAS! WHERE ARE CATLIN AND MUNGO?" HE ASKED. "TIED UP FOR THE PRESENT!" SHE RETURNED.

A SUDDEN BLOW ON THE CHIN AND THE JAILER DROPPED. "I HATED TO DO THAT," TARZAN SAID, "BUT NOW HE CAN'T GIVE THE ALARM!"

Distr. by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.

"TARZAN!" DALLAS SCREAMED. BARRING THEIR EXIT WAS A LARGE LION WITH A COAT THAT SHONE LIKE GOLD!

NEXT WEEK— THE GOLDEN LION!
